ITALIAN SITUATION SAID TO BE CLEARING

CHEERS FOR FIGHTING SEVENTH AS LONG SERVICE MEN RETURN

Men Who Fought Since Neuve Chapelle Among Party Who Reached Victoria To-day; Hearty Welcome for Historic Regiment; Some of Its Heroes

Greeted with a scene of enthusiasm corresponding to that which marked the occasion of the homecoming of the 2nd C. M. R.'s recently, many veterans of the famous Seventh Battalion were welcomed back to Victoria this morning and again this afternoon. Some preferred not to wait for the formal reception. To-day's greeting to the fifty veterans who came to Victoria, with the addition of thirty or forty men for other parts of the Island, was the spontaneous welcome of proud relatives and admiring friends of the men who have so gallantly done their duty in the great struggle. An organized reception of the men is planned to take place at the Alexandra Club on May 1, the men who will by that time be demobilized wearing their uniforms for the occasion. Former Seventh men under hospital treatment will also participate.

A big reception was accorded to the boys when they arrived at Vancouver, and the reception was repeated for the Island men as they stepped off the wharf. Mayor Porter and members of the Welcome Club were waiting and had arranged for a supply of automobiles to convey the men to the Willows Camp or to their homes. A long time before the boat arrived expectant relatives, many of whom carried flags and banners to wave as the lads left the boat, occupied points of vantage on the landing stage and elsewhere. Former members of the battalion were also on hand to welcome home the comrades they left carrying on the fight, in which they had received injuries which had necessitated their return to Canada. In some instances the men were renewing a friendship started on the battlefield and in which there had since been a breach of three eventful years.

In connection with the reception at the wharf this afternoon, the University School Cadet Corps, of which Captain Harvey (one of the first officers of the 7th Battalion killed in action) was the head, will parade through the city and take up its position at the entrance to the gangway at Belleville Street just before the arrival of the boat. The Foundation Company Band will also be present and will furnish military music.

Suffered Heavily.
Original members of the Seventh Battalion, some of whom have fought since 1915 until the signing of the armistice, were included in the party which arrived in Victoria this afternoon. Others were men of Victoria battalions who joined the 7th Battalion in France, many reinforcements having been sent to the unit to fill the gaps left in the ranks during the many hard-fought battles in which the battalion has won fame.

The latest statistics show that about 1,300 members of the battalion were killed or taken prisoner, and the wounded number considerably more than that. It was stated by an officer recently returned from the training camps in England that the 7th Battalion had more men sent to it for reinforcements than any other Canadian unit.

From Ranks to Colonel.
The present commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. Gilson, joined the 7th with the contingent of the 102nd Rocky Mountain Rangers from Kamloops, when the battalion was formed at Valcartier. He was made co-sergeant of G Company, and when the four double companies were formed he was promoted to company sergeant-major. He had the honor of being chosen as one of the non-coms. of the Canadian contingent which went to London for the opening of the 1914. During the battle of Ypres he received his commission as a lieutenant, and after the battle of Festubert, when Capt. Gardner, the adjutant, was wounded, Lieut. Gilson was given the post. After that his promotion was rapid, and he has had command of the battalion for the past two years.

88th Officers.
The 88th Fusiliers of Victoria have with other battalions helped in the reinforcement of the 7th Battalion, some former 88th officers who joined the Seventh being Capt. R. C. Cooper, Lieut. H. A. Bromley, Lieut. H. B.

MR. WILSON WAS ASKED TO POSTPONE STATEMENT BUT THOUGHT THE TIME RIGHT

Paris, April 26.—The report that Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau approved of President Wilson's statement on the Adriatic problem was declared to be inaccurate in an official announcement issued here to-day, the text of which follows:

"The report that Premier Clemenceau and Premier Lloyd George approved of President Wilson's statement is inaccurate. The statement was read to M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George, and President Wilson informed them that he intended to issue it. M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George were anxious that Mr. Wilson should postpone publication in the hope that an arrangement might be arrived at. The President thought, however, that the time had arrived and his statement was issued on his own responsibility. Before Signor Orlando left M.

VICTORIA CROSS MAN RETURNS HOME

A Victoria Cross man, Sergeant W. L. Rayfield, was one of the party of 7th Battalion men who returned, the Sergeant receiving the greatest decoration awarded to a soldier for his bravery on September 4, 1918, when he captured 46 German prisoners unaided and then rescued a number of his wounded comrades, going out under a heavy fire to carry them from a dangerous position. Sergeant Rayfield trained at West Point, leaving for France in December, 1917. He had been a resident of the United States since boyhood, although an Englishman by birth, and came from California to Victoria and enlisted. The young hero is a rancher, who has made his home in the States of California, Oregon and Washington.

DETACHMENT OF "RED COATS" AND PROVINCIAL POLICE DISPATCHED TO PRINCETON

Insistent appeals from the people of Princeton have poured into the Attorney-General's department this morning and a demand made that additional police assistance be sent immediately for the protection of life and property. A grave situation has apparently developed out of the labor dispute, to which reference is made elsewhere in this issue, and as far as can be gathered the seat of the trouble rests with some four score of enemy aliens and a detachment of deported undesirable who left Seattle hurriedly at the time of the shipyard strike. Incendiary and the molestation of the women folk of the community is charged in a number of wires received by the Attorney-General, who immediately took steps to cope with developments.

ITALIAN MESSAGE TO M. CLEMENCEAU

Former Premier Luzzatti Urges Efforts to Satisfy Italy's Demands

Rome, April 26.—(Havas).—Professor Luigi Luzzatti, former Premier and Minister of the Interior, has sent a telegram to Premier Clemenceau of France, appealing to his friendly sentiments toward Italy and asking him to exert his best efforts to obtain satisfaction of Italy's demands. The telegram concludes: "All Italy in this hour of passion trusts in you."

PLAN WAS REJECTED BY THE ITALIANS

Paris, April 26.—It has just developed that the British, United States and French admirals in command in Adriatic waters had formulated a plan for giving Italy certain of the Dalmatian islands, which would have assured Italy control of the Adriatic such as she desires. This joint plan was presented to the Italian representatives and was rejected as not sufficient.

Conference Shaken.
Paris, April 26.—(Associated Press.)—The Peace Conference has been severely shaken by the Italian crisis, and the extent to which its work will be affected is receiving the anxious attention of the delegates. In French and Italian circles the situation is regarded as serious, and some quarters even represent it as desperate, but this extreme view is not generally held.

Several of Committees met yesterday with the Italian members present, and the secretariat of the American delegation said no notice had been received of the withdrawal of Italian participation. But the departure of three of the Italian delegates on Thursday night and the departure of Foreign Minister Sonnino and former Minister Salandra, set for to-day, create an anomalous situation, as it is not known whether Italy will be represented at the plenary session of the Conference Monday, when parts of the treaty, including the League of Nations covenant, will be finally passed upon.

Baron Sonnino and Salandro Return to Rome From Paris

Paris, April 26.—Foreign Minister Sonnino and former Premier Salandra, of the Italian peace delegation, left Paris for Rome at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A large crowd of sympathizers gave them an ovation at the railway station.

A TRADE CONVENTION.

Chicago, April 26.—San Francisco was selected as the next meeting place of the National and Foreign Trade Convention, which concluded its deliberations here to-day.

ADVICES TO-DAY FROM PARIS TO WASHINGTON INDICATE THE FIUME TANGLE BEING STRAIGHTENED OUT

Paris Paper Says Italian Delegation At Versailles May 1

Paris, April 26.—Premier Orlando and his colleagues on the Italian delegation to the Peace Conference will appear before the Italian Parliament on next Monday, April 28, according to The Petit Parisien.

"We are able to affirm that, whatever the outcome of this session of the Italian Parliament," the newspaper adds, "the Premier and his fellow delegates will immediately start for Paris, and the Italian delegation will be in full strength at Versailles on May 1."

Wilson and Other American Delegates Hold a Conference

Paris, April 26.—All the members of the American peace delegation will meet with President Wilson for a conference at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Wilson Street in Genoa Now Changed to "Fiume Street"

Rome, April 26.—A demonstration today in Genoa in protest against President Wilson's attitude culminated in the changing of the name of the street that had been named after the United States President to "Fiume Street."

Kamloops-Kelowna Railroad Line Is to Be Built By Stewart

Vancouver, April 26.—A special dispatch to The Vancouver Sun from Ottawa says:

"The contract for the construction of a railway line from Kamloops to Kelowna, with a branch from Vernon to Lumby, has been awarded to Major-General J. W. Stewart, of Vancouver, and associates, it was announced at the head offices of the Canadian National Railways last night. It is understood that work on the contract will be undertaken at once.

"The contract will involve the construction of over one hundred miles of railway, and the policy of the Canadian National Railways will be to employ returned soldiers on the work wherever possible."

FIRST FULL SESSION OF CONGRESS AT VERSAILLES EXPECTED WEDNESDAY NEXT

Paris, April 26.—The plans for receiving the German delegates to the Peace Congress are proceeding, it being thought probable that the first meeting with the Germans will take place next Wednesday, April 30, by which time the complete draft of the treaty of peace is expected to be ready.

The chief task of the Council of Three now is to settle a large number of small details still remaining open, together with some larger questions, including the disposition of the first line German warships.

The plenary session of the Conference to be held on Monday may continue through Tuesday in order that the work of the body may be completed before the delegates proceed to Versailles on Wednesday for the first session with the Germans. This session is predicted on the completion of the treaty, which is now fully expected by Wednesday, as the Council is opposed to the delivery of the treaty in piecemeal or to making it public in parts. The latest estimates by experts place the total length of the document at 70,000 words.

U. S. LOAN PASSES $650,000,000 MARK

Washington, April 26.—A little more than $650,000,000 had been subscribed to the Victory Loan and officially tabulated to-day by the Treasury.

Message From French Capital to White House States Situation "Is Clearing Rapidly;" Wilson's Action Reported Endorsed "Everywhere"

Washington, April 26.—The Italian situation in the peace negotiations is "clearing rapidly," according to advices from Paris received to-day at the White House. It was stated that the action taken by President Wilson was endorsed "everywhere."

Just what developments were taking place was not disclosed, but it was evident that as a result of the message the tension which has prevailed in administration quarters for the past three days was considerably relaxed.

London, April 26.—Reuter's Paris correspondent sends the following on the Italian situation:

"The Italian delegation, in a statement, denies reports received from Rome yesterday that the Adriatic difficulties were in course of settlement. The delegates considered absurd the plan for a Fiume that would be autonomous, but under the sovereignty of Italy."

ORLANDO ARRIVES IN ROME AND IS WARMLY RECEIVED

Rome, April 26.—(Associated Press).—Vittorio Orlando, the Italian Premier, arrived in Rome this morning from Paris.

Paris, April 26.—The arrival of Premier Orlando in Rome this morning was announced in an official telephone message from the Italian capital. He was received enthusiastically.

GIANT SS. IMPERATOR IS TURNED OVER TO ALLIES BY GERMANS

Copenhagen, April 26.—The German steamship Emperor will proceed to Cuxhaven to-day to take on bunker coal and from there will go to England to be turned over to the Allies, according to The Tageblatt, of Berlin.

UKRAINIANS SEND DELEGATES TO PARIS

Berne, April 26.—(Havas).—The Ukrainian Press Bureau here announces that the Ukrainian Government, having received a telegram from President Wilson, has decided to send delegates to Paris to begin negotiations for a preliminary peace between the Ukrainians and the Poles.

Disturbing.

These reports are particularly disturbing as the British and United States delegations to the Peace Conference are said to have had reason to believe that Premier Orlando might adopt a course before the Italian Parliament which would lead to an amicable adjustment. Premier Lloyd George was particularly hopeful that this result would be brought about. The reports of the popular agitation in Rome and many other Italian centres, however, have led to fears that the Italian Premier's attitude may be swept away in an outburst of feeling by the populace which will insist upon demands far beyond those the Council of the Powers feels able to accept.

BRITISH PEOPLE APPEALED TO BY SOCIETY IN ROME

Rome, April 26.—The executive committee of the Italo-Britannic Institute met yesterday under the chairmanship of Marquis Centurione. It unanimously passed a resolution expressing the trust that the "undeniable rights of Italy, which have been brutally outraged in a manner unprecedented in history, will receive the most loyal and the most sincere sympathy from the entire British world."

HENRY S. STRATHY DIES IN TORONTO

Toronto, April 26.—Suddenly stricken while in bed, Henry Seton Strathy, one of Toronto's leading bankers, and formerly of Montreal, a national figure in banking circles for over fifty years, died at his residence here in his eighty-sixth year. He was closely associated with outstanding financiers and a leading spirit in all banking matters in Canada from 1850 until his retirement in 1907.

TWO MAIN FORCES ARE LINKING UP

Important Progress by Allied Forces in North Russia and Siberia

Archangel, April 24.—(Associated Press).—According to reports by the Russian General Staff, important progress is being made in the Petchora district toward opening a line of communication in the summer between the Archangel and Siberian forces of the Allies. The Archangel forces recently have made important advances which are destined to assure sea and river transportation with Admiral Kolchak's army as soon as navigation opens in the Arctic region.

A Russian force under General Shapshnikoff has occupied Oest Uchta, at the junction of the Rivers Ichna and Uchta, and the Bolsheviks also have abandoned their fronts on the rivers Vashka and Mezen.

Approximately ninety soldiers of the North Russian army who accepted the offer of Major-General Marushewsky, commander of the Russian forces and Governor-General of the region of the north, to permit them to join the Bolsheviks if they had objections to the Archangel Government, have been sent through the front to the enemy lines.

A dispatch from Archangel on April 24 said General Marushewsky had started Archangel by offering Bolshevik sympathizers the choice of a safe conduct to the Bolshevik line up to April 16, on their written application, with the alternative of a trial by military court if found within the Allied military zone after that date.

CLOSURE RULE FOR RAILWAY MEASURE

Canadian National Railways
Bill in Commons Next Tuesday

Ottawa, April 25.—At 2:50 o'clock this morning, after the House, in committee, had indulged in three days' strenuous discussion of the bill to incorporate the Canadian National Railways Company, all the non-contentious clauses had been passed and the postponement of the contentious clauses was moved by Hon. Arthur Meighen. This left the way clear for the application of the closure rule, and he moved that on Monday the bill should be the first order of business, and that its consideration should not be further postponed. This means that the bill must be disposed of by the House in Committee of the Whole Tuesday morning, and that members may speak only twenty minutes on each clause.

Mr. Lemieux.
Clause 20 met with strenuous opposition from Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. This clause provides for an extension of two and five years in the time for the commencement and completion of lines which any of the companies comprised in the Canadian Northern system were authorized to construct previous to the beginning of the war.

Mr. Lemieux declared that this clause would give the company power to enter upon a carnival of road building which might bring the country to verge of poverty.

As an indication of the expenditure which might result from Government control of the C. N. R., Mr. Lemieux said that he had seen a news item which stated that the Minister of Railways was considering electrifying certain portions of the line. Mr. Lemieux asked whether the Minister could not give the Committee some information on this point.

Forty-Four Charters.

Mr. Lemieux said that under Clause 20, Parliament was reviving forty-four charters which were dead and buried. The Government should not take a blanket charter so as to prevent the Western Provinces from developing railway construction when the Government had not the means, with the obligations which it now has on its shoulders, to implement construction.

Mr. Lemieux declared that he was not an advocate nor champion of private interests in the House, and during the twenty-four hours he had been a member he had never championed private against public interest.

"I say the policy of the Government is a dangerous policy," Mr. Lemieux concluded.
"You are launching the country into a gulf from which it may not emerge. To-day it is a receivership for one of our big railways. Later it may be a receivership for Canada. A country may as well be lost through economic efforts, and the policy of its statesmen as it may be lost on the field of battle. When this country can get no more credit to back its undertakings, I may God help Canada, God save Canada."

Big Debt.

"We are indebted to the almost inconceivable amount of $2,000,000,000. The credit of our country is held in the balance. He (Sir Thomas White) knows that the eyes of the world, where we have dealings, where we receive loans after loan, are fixed on Canada, and yet he speaks of faith and hope. I have faith and hope, but I would like to have a little commonsense with my faith and my hope."

Matter of Funds

Hon. Arthur Meighen said the clause gave no right to build Railroads could not be built without money, and the company would have to come to Parliament for money.

He suggested that the clause be amended by limiting its operation to companies specified in a schedule which he placed before the Committee.

Townsites

Jacques Bureau created somewhat of a sensation by asking the Government who owned the townsites along the railway branch lines.

"It is said," Mr. Bureau declared, "that Mackenzie & Mann own the property alongside these lines of which the clause seeks to revive the charters, and that the object is two-fold—one to induce the selectors along the lines to support the Minister of Immigration and Colonization, and the other to allow Mackenzie & Mann to speculate on lands along the lines."

Hon. J. D. Reid—"I don't know who holds the land. We don't own it."

The Government, Dr. Reid added, would have to buy the right-of-way where none of the lines had been built."

Information Premised

Mr. Bureau—"I think it is very important that we should have this information."

Dr. Reid replied that the information would be furnished when the Committee came to the railways on the line.

Mr. Bureau said it was not right that the House should pass a clause to extend charters to which some persons

BODY FOUND UNDER PILE OF WOOD

Remains Discovered In Vancouver Probably Those of Charles Lacey

Vancouver, April 26.—Covered with a pile of slabwood, the body of a man believed to be Charles Lacey, missing since early in February, was found in the rear of the Rat Portage Mill wood-yard here yesterday. John Campbell, 1436 Sixth Avenue West, who made the gruesome discovery, notified Constable Mitchell and later Inspector Scott and Detective Denning investigated. Lacey's skull was fractured. Few effects were found on the body. According to a report made at police headquarters, Lacey came to Vancouver from Prince Rupert on January 31, registering at a local hotel. It is believed he formerly owned a mercantile store at Clements, B. C.

THIS DOMINION AND BRITISH WEST INDIES

Kingston, Jamaica, April 26.—Harry J. Crowe, of Newfoundland, addressed a gathering of citizens here last night relative to a commercial and political union between Canada and the British West Indies. He stated that the Canadian Prime Minister was willing to receive a deputation from the islands to discuss the matter. The suggestion of a confederation with Canada is receiving favorable consideration here and a committee has been formed to deal with the proposition.

HELIGOLAND PLAN PUT IN FINAL FORM

Kiel Canal Also Discussed by Council of Three Yesterday

Paris, April 26.—The question of Heligoland was disposed of by the Council of Three yesterday afternoon, while the Kiel Canal and the disposition of the former German cables also were discussed. Military and economic experts were called in during the session of the Council.

The Council is understood to have discussed also the reports of the drafting committee of the peace treaty to make certain that the draft, so far as it has proceeded, is in proper order and form.

German Delegation.
Berlin, April 25.—Via London, April 26.—Professor Walter M. A. Schuecking, one of the German delegates to the Peace Congress at Versailles, declared in an interview to-day that the powers of the German delegates would be quite sufficient to enable them to sign the peace treaty on the spot. Naturally, he added, the National Assembly must sanction the treaty.

The importance of the delegation should be appreciated as an indication that the Imperial Government reckons on real negotiations," he said. "The contents of the latest note permit the conclusion that our opponents are in principle inclined seriously to negotiate with us."

"I personally am optimistic enough to hope that French reports of the treaty are materially inaccurate and that therefore an acceptable preliminary peace may be garnered within the next few weeks, even though special deliberations may be prolonged for months."

SEIZURE OF OPIUM MADE NEAR LADNER

Ladner, April 26.—The largest seizure of opium ever made in this vicinity was made by Chief Constable McDonald near here yesterday, when he arrested three Chinese and made a haul of the poppy drug valued at $10,000.

The prisoners appeared before a local magistrate yesterday, the case being remanded till this afternoon at 2.30.

DEPENDENTS LANDED AT ST. JOHN, N. B.

St. John, N. B., April 26.—The steamship Corsican arrived here yesterday with 1,348 passengers, including a military party of twenty-nine officers, four nursing sisters and forty of other ranks. There were 695 dependents, including 139 children and 349 other civilians. Lieut.-Col. A. B. Snow, of Victoria, was in command of the troops.

The vessel was the last of the regular troop ships sailing to this port.

TEST OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS SCHEME

Situation Created by Adriatic Question Is That, Says Westminster Gazette

London, April 26.—"This is the first test case of the League of Nations," said The Westminster Gazette yesterday afternoon dealing with President Wilson's statement on the Fiume question and the later developments. "It is undoubtedly a break with the past which conventional minds find exceedingly disturbing. Yet if the new world order to which we are pledged is to be more than a name, we may make up our minds that we shall all on occasions have to submit to the process now applied to Italy."

The Pall Mall Gazette said the Adriatic difficulty was leading toward a situation, "in which case," it added, President Wilson will have no reason to repeat the innovation by which he called in the judgment of a wider tribunal than the Council of Four."

Italian Delegates' Course.
Paris, April 26.—The Italian representatives yesterday suspended attendance at the sessions of such Commissions and Committees as are directly dependent on the Peace Conference, and whose work is involved in the decision of the territorial questions. The Italian delegates refused to participate in the deliberations of organizations formed prior to the conference and of the Supreme Economic Council, and discussed economic and financial questions with the allied representatives as if nothing had happened.

Symptomatic of Italy's expectations of adjustment of the present difficulty was the continued refusal by the Italian representative in the committee discussing the allocation of seized merchant ships between the Italians and the Croats.

In London.
London, April 26.—Italian residents of London took part in a demonstration before the Italian Embassy yesterday afternoon to express the sentiment of loyalty and solidarity of the Italians in the United Kingdom to their Government and country in the present crisis. The parading Italians, preceded by flags and bands, marched to the Embassy, where, after an address by the president of the Italian Chamber of Commerce, a deputation was received by the Charge d'Affaires, who promised that Premier Orlando would be apprised of the demonstration.

At Turin.
Turin, April 26.—Via London, April 26.—The Italian delegates returning from Paris to Rome were given an enthusiastic reception when their train reached this city this afternoon. The City Council and the local authorities meeting the Conference representatives assembled on the station platform and a crowd of at least 50,000 filled the station and the surrounding streets.

Premier Orlando, Signor Barzilai and General Diaz spoke to the crowd from an automobile and then went to the Prefecture, where there was another demonstration. The party left this city for Rome at 5.45 o'clock.

German Comments.
Berlin, April 26.—Delayed.—(Associated Press.)—Commenting on President Wilson's declaration relative to the Adriatic, The Boersen Zeitung says the President's statement was "most comprehensive in tenor, most impressive in import and the most consistent of all his notes."

The Tagesschau Rundschau believes Italy will be obliged to yield and says that "she has become the slave of her friends."

The Tageblatt declares there is only one way to solve present and numerous other conflicts which menace the peace settlement, namely, "to have Mr. Wilson administer an eleventh-hour reprimand with equal energy to all the Associated Powers, thereby bringing about a total revision of the treaty and a genuine return to the fourteen principles."

Vienna Comments.
Vienna, April 26.—Delayed.—The withdrawal of the Italian delegation from the Peace Conference was received here with elation, the people generally being glad to see the Allies in conflict with each other.

The Neue Freie Presse says: "Premier Orlando is bluffing, probably in an attempt to square his position in Italy toward the interventionists. It is impossible for Italy to withdraw, as she is fed by the United States."

The newspaper adds: "President Wilson's position is based on the idea of right and justice, and it is hoped he will act in the same way toward Bohemia and the Tyrol, where the people will be driven to desperation if subjected to Czech or Italian control."

EICHORN ARRESTED AND THEN WAS FREED

Berlin, April 25.—Via London, April 26.—Eichhorn, formerly chief of police of Berlin, was arrested on Thursday at Halberstadt, Prussian Saxony, but was liberated by workmen after a fight lasting three hours, according to advices received here.

A dispatch from Berlin under date of April 19 said that official confirmation had been received of the arrest of Eichhorn by German Government troops near Holzminden after his attempt to escape by aeroplane when Brunswick was captured by Government forces.

Eichhorn fled from Berlin early in the year during the revolutionary outbreak, and later was reported to be aiding the Separatist movement in Brunswick.

WOUNDED CANADIANS LANDED IN MAINE

Portland, Maine, April 26.—Delayed by fog and arriving in a snowstorm, the 774 wounded officers and men of the Canadian army who reached Portland yesterday on the hospital steamship Araguaya from Liverpool on their way to a dose of Canadian military discipline were cheered by the warmth of the greeting extended by war workers, reception committees and local residents.

Thirty-eight of the patients were mental cases and sixty had undergone amputation, of which nineteen were double. There were forty-eight officers and seven nursing officers. The officers included Lieut.-Col. S. McKay, of Toronto, and Lieut.-Col. J. J. McKay, of Halifax.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain In The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rashes, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-tives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will protect you against Auto-intoxication because this wonderful fruit medicine acts directly on all the eliminating organs.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

SOLDIERS WILL BUILD UP CANADA, SAYS SIR ARTHUR CURRIE

London, April 26.—Lieut.-Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, speaking at a Canadian Pay Corps dinner, said:

"I believe Canada will get everything in the future better inside of the British Empire than outside. Even so, we can go home with a greater sense of nationalism than ever before. We have all been away from Canada many months, and are all more or less unfamiliar with Canadian thought and sentiment. They are wondering what the thought and sentiment of the Canadian soldiers will be. I can say it will be anything which is for the good of the country. Our men have lived a little closer to their Maker."

"Discipline is only a self-control which makes you do the right thing."

Major-Gen. McDonnell remarked that Canada had given soldiers for an Imperial military enterprise on an average of every twenty years.

"I don't know what is going to become of the older men who have thrown themselves in," he declared.

"I go down and see the ships sail for Canada. I am glad to see them go, but I am very sorry to say 'Goodbye.'"

Took Severe Cold ON HIS LUNGS

COUGHED PHLEGM AND BLOOD

On the first appearance of a cough or cold, do not neglect it, but get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse, and gets settled on the lungs, causing bronchitis, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will cure the cough of cold on its first inception and perhaps save you years of suffering.

Mr. G. F. Stratchuk, Canora, Sask., writes: "Last winter I took a most severe cold on my lungs and was coughing up phlegm and blood most of the time. I had the cough for over two months, and took a great deal of different medicines, but found no relief from them. At last a friend advised me to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I did, and it gave me great relief in a very short time, and to-day I am enjoying good health again."

The marvelous results that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has achieved in its cures of coughs and colds has caused many so-called "pine" preparations to be put on the market, which do not contain any pine whatever. See that you get the genuine when you ask for it.

Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Many Spoke of This Point

From the many letters sent in, saying why they like Pacific Milk better than any evaporated milk on the market, one idea runs through a large percentage.

They say they like the "rich cream flavor," that "it is like fresh cream," "there is none of the strong taste so common in tinned milk," "we like it on porridge better than fresh milk."

Hubby Wore a Broad Smile

"Jim," she said, "I've saved eight dollars and seventy cents."

Hubby smiled, as every hubby would. And then he wanted to know how she had done it.

So she got a pencil and paper and figured it out for him. "Last winter," she said, "we paid a dollar a dozen for eggs. That's an awful lot of money, and I decided we couldn't afford to do it again. So I've bought 20 dozen eggs at 55c a dozen, and a tin of Pendray's Water Glass, and I'm going to preserve the eggs so that we can have lots of them next winter."

And then she did two sums and showed them to hubby. Here they are:

NOW		NEXT WINTER
20 Dozen Eggs	at 55c. $11.00	20 Dozen Eggs at
1 Tin of Pendray's Water Glass30	$1.00	$20.00
	$11.30		$20.00

That is how she had saved $8.70. And hubby smiled again.

FROM YPRES TO MONS.

The exploits of the Seventh Battalion will furnish one of the fullest and most striking chapters in the record of Canada's participation in the war. It will be a recital of every great battle in which the troops of this Dominion have fought, a chronicle of victories from the Second Battle of Ypres to the grand finale at Mons. During its long service of nearly four years the Seventh had 9,000 casualties, the equivalent of nearly nine times its regulation strength, yet among the men who are returning to Victoria this afternoon are some who have traversed the whole grim course from first to last, who went through the deluge of gas and fire in Flanders, just a little more than four years ago, the gruelling series of conflicts which subsequently marked the fateful Ypres salient, the first Battle of the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Lens, Hill 70, Passchendaele, the Second Battle of the Somme, Arras, the Drocourt-Queant switch, Cambrai, Valenciennes and Mons. Victoria has cause for high pride in her large representation in this celebrated unit, while her welcome to the men who have returned embodies also a reverential tribute to those who are lying on the battlefields of France and Belgium.

PLAN SHOULD BE SUCCESSFUL.

Although the Federal Minister of the Interior officially frowned upon community settlement for soldiers and declared the idea to be economically unsound, the Provincial Land Settlement Board has decided to put the thing to a test. Nobody can say yet whether the plan arranged for the Courtenay district will be a success or a failure. It never has been tried before on anything like a large scale in British Columbia, but we should remember we are living in times when a great many ancient theories are being relegated to the scrap heap. Furthermore, the fact that those who are about to develop the lands at Courtenay are men who want to make British Columbia a better place in which to live, will go a long way to assist the various enterprises that will be launched, as the community expands, by former battlefield comrades who wish to work in the peaceful atmosphere of war's camaraderie.

We are glad to note the policy of the re-organized Provincial Board. Its provision for the community and co-operative idea to commence in practical fashion with the actual clearing of the land should accentuate the interest of the soldier settlers in this task. To clear their land at four dollars a day with the knowledge that they will own it afterwards should be an encouraging incentive. And by placing the "canteens" under their own control on a profit-sharing basis automatically eliminates profiteering opportunities. There are to be no contractors' profits, the firm which will superintend the work merely taking a small commission on the pay-roll for its services. This is sound policy and the fact that a returned soldier is a member of the firm engaged in is keeping with the spirit of the enterprise. In Lieut. Walker, who is to be the "official selector" of the men to take part in the plan, the Board has a representative of all returned men in British Columbia and one who has given much study to community settlement from every point of view.

Taken altogether, the Land Settlement Board of British Columbia has embarked upon a policy which may easily comprehend many new communities of soldier-citizens at no distant date. The Province needs greater agricultural production and the only way to secure that and commensurate industrial expansion is by encouraging rural settlement.

THAT BROOM.

We do not think there is any real basis for the fear expressed in some quarters that the municipal authorities will order the destruction of the broom at Beacon Hill. Such a course would be absurd, to put it mildly, for the idea which prompted it would require also the destruction of every park and picnic-ground within the neighborhood of the city. Every "shady nook and leafy bower" would have to go before the Puritanical axe, and we would have to convert the southern district of Vancouver Island into a veritable desert—a tolerably laborious and costly job. We quite agree that this would improve the morals of the community, for the four or five hundred people who would remain here after the devastation could be easily kept within the limits of supervision. However, there is no actual demand for the total destruction of the broom, as we understand it, but it is proposed that the park be better-lighted and paths be cut in the places where the brush is thickest. This is desirable in any case, for the old paths on the Hill have been overgrown and in some places the growth has become so dense that it disfigures the landscape. The city gardeners should be able to work wonders by judicious trimming and cutting in a few days. That is about all there really is to the broom controversy.

MAY COMPROMISE.

The section in the Treaty of London, agreed to in April, 1915, a few weeks before Italy entered the war, which refers to Fiume states that "the whole coast of Croatia, the port of Fiume, and the small ports of Novi and Carlogago shall be included in the territory of Croatia," which is to say, in the territory of what is now a part of the Jugo-Slav state. The treaty gives Italy, however, the greater part of Dalmatia. Thus, if the text of the treaty were adhered to Italy would have to forego Fiume and the entire coast of Croatia, but would become mistress of most of Dalmatia farther south.

The treaty ought to furnish a basis of compromise that will both satisfy Italian aspirations and permit the maritime development of the reconstituted Balkan states. That the new nations which have been created in the Balkan peninsula and out of fragments of what was once Austria-Hungary, with the assistance and sympathy of the Allies, should be permitted the fullest opportunity of development is imperative, and was recognized as such in an agreement reached between Italy and the Jugo-Slavs in Rome last year. Otherwise they and the contiguous nationalities would resume their old status as the powder magazine of Europe. The common sense of all parties should find a way out of the difficulty.

FAIR AND REASONABLE.

The contention of the Victoria Library Commissioners that the neighboring municipalities should contribute more to the maintenance of the library than they do at present has sound basis in reason and justice. The institution cost Victoria $16,900 last year, to which Oak Bay and Saanich each contributed $350 and Esquimalt $250, the total of the three neighboring municipalities, therefore, being less than $1,000. Prior to two years ago they contributed nothing. If Oak Bay, for instance, based its contribution on the proportion of its residents who used the library last year the amount would have been between $900 and $1,000. It has been suggested that the neighboring municipalities either should contribute to the upkeep of the library to the relative extent of their use of it or unite with the city in a common levy of one-fourth of a mill which on a combined assessment of $70,000,000 would raise the amount required. In any case, we think it no more than fair that our neighbors should contribute more generously to the financing of the library.

YES—BUT.

The Financial Post, of Toronto, says:

"It is hard to reconcile the agitation for the restriction of butter exports—when attention is paid to such a fool idea—with all the efforts we have been making to expand our export trade. Certainly, if any export business is good business, it should be in the products which are made from our own raw materials. Canada should have no objection to selling agricultural products at whatever price the foreign consumer is willing to pay."

Canada has no objection to selling agricultural products abroad as long as she is not starved by the process. Our exports should consist of our surplus after the legitimate wants of the home population have been supplied. The other policy is both shortsighted and, particularly at this time, decidedly dangerous. Blue-books on foreign trade, while interesting and instructive, are not a good substitute for the necessities of life.

BRITISH COLUMBIA IN THE AIR.

It has been generally understood that British Columbia's production of spruce during the year 1918 was a big factor in Great Britain's aircraft programme. It may not be so generally known, however, that spruce and fir shipments from this Province in the summer months of last year represented more than fifty per cent. of the requirements of the British air factories. So much had this developed by November that spruce shipments alone satisfied eighty per cent. of the demand and with the supply of fir added to the total monthly consignment no less than ninety-seven per cent. of Britain's needs in aeroplane timber had been provided for.

These figures which were recently made public by Major Austin Taylor, of the Aeronautical Supply Department of the Imperial Munitions Board show the fine working of the organization built up by the Department itself and the aid rendered to it by the Provincial Government. The achievement is even more striking when it is considered that the output of spruce in January of last year represented but 1.36 per cent. of Britain's demand. British Columbians, then, may take just pride in the fact that British and Allied aviators owe so much of their supremacy in the air to the energy displayed in the forests of this Province.

While all the available organization and machinery devoted itself to the recovery of spruce, however, general lumber business became more or less stagnant. For this reason we can readily believe that when Sir James Ball visits this Province during the next week or so he will have a sympathetic memory for those achievements which brought about this condition. Obviously, he would much prefer to increase British Columbia's overseas market than to swell the coffers of Scandinavian interests, and the mills of this Province can doubtless rest assured that the Timber Controller of Great Britain intends to do that if it be anyway possible.

CHILD WELFARE.

(London Advertiser.)

Of the tasks of reconstruction few are more formidable or vital than those relating to the child. It is encouraging and inspiring to learn that this great problem is to have a large part of the attention of the world Red Cross conference, which opens in Paris next month. The child has always been the hope of mankind. That fact is so self-evident as to make a repetition of the assertion borelessly hackneyed. But a fresh reference to it is excusable, because of its magnified importance under the new order of things. The war has been cruel to the children of all nations. One of its anomalies has been the infliction of misery and unhappiness on the little ones for whose moral, spiritual and physical health and happiness during maturity it was largely waged. The free peoples have fought to establish a condition of safety and sanity for the men and women latent in the children, who a few years hence will control affairs. To "carry on" will be their labor.

WANT BOTH.

(Ottawa Citizen.)

"Take your meals regularly every day of the year. A good meal will do you no harm. God wants you to give up your sins not your meals," said Rev. G. R. MacPail, preaching from the pulpit of the French Baptist Church yesterday morning.

Those earnest reformers, the food profiteers, are attempting to counsel us to give up both.

PLAN WAS REJECTED
BY THE ITALIANS

Personal issue. The territorial issue now is felt to be less important than the personal issue which the Italian Premier has raised by his plan of going before his Parliament and asking a vote of confidence. Should this be given, it is thought probable in some quarters that it would renew the Italian issue before the Council in a more pronounced form than either President Wilson or the Council as a whole has thus far been willing to admit. Should it not be given, the probable result would be Cabinet changes, bringing a new delegation, with a new policy, to the Conference.

No Pressure.

There are evidences that President Wilson has avoided using anything which might be construed as economic pressure upon Italy, although some quarters have suggested this as an effective weapon.

Secretary of the Treasury Glass has asked a credit of $50,000,000 for Italy and this request is now on the President's desk for final determination.

DETACHMENT OF "RED COATS" AND PROVINCIAL POLICE DISPATCHED TO TOWN OF PRINCETON

advice point out to the Attorney-General that when an endeavor was made to extinguish the fire, which mysteriously broke out at the plant of the Princeton Coal & Land Company yesterday, all four houses were destroyed beyond hope of repair.

At Wits' End.

That the Citizens' Committee is at its wits' end to know what course to take is obvious from a further wire which reached the Department just before noon this morning. The only remedy to the trouble, as suggested by this wire, is the immediate dispatch of additional police protection and the prompt deportation of the disturbing alien element, whence, the Committee asserts, has come the initiative in all the disorders to date. A former telegram expresses the view that the seat of the trouble may be traced to a couple of dozen of so undesirable who were deported from Seattle during the progress of the shipyard strike there. It is stated authoritatively, however, that there are seventy-two aliens working on the particular job over which the labor dispute has arisen, and that all these to a man have been identified with the more extreme faction.

Molesting the Women.

The latest information to reach the Attorney-General is that the women of the locality are now subjected to insult and molestation by the alien element, some of whom are described by the Citizens' Committee as Italian deserters. The Department has no knowledge as to the accuracy or otherwise of this assertion and therefore counsels its acceptance with a modicum of reserve. At the same time the insistence of the wires now on file at the Parliament Buildings suggests that a situation has arisen which is somewhat different to that usually associated with the ordinary labor defection. It is further pointed out that unless more stable conditions prevail the Canada Copper Corporation will be forced to suspend its operations.

Manager's Appeal.

An appeal from the manager of this concern has also reached the Parliament Buildings in which he says, in part, that it is a great pity when business activity is necessary to give employment to returned soldiers, and when outside capital is being courted to develop the resources of the Province, that the spectacle of important mining, milling and constructional work programmes must be contemplated as thwarted by a handful of alien enemies. He says it is not much credit to white men in a white man's country. He asks that something be done to get the situation under effective control.

Disorders At Prince George.

A telegram from Alex. Manson, Liberal member for Kamloops, received by Mr. Farris this morning paints a gloomy picture of the situation which has developed among a gang of alien enemies there. Destruction of property was commenced there last night and storekeepers and business men in general appeal for police protection. No definite details of the cause of this outbreak have been received to date, but in view of what has happened and is happening at Princeton the Attorney-General and his Deputy are holding themselves in readiness to deal with matters at Prince George as they arise. The Royal North West Mounted Police authorities have been acquainted of the news contained in Mr. Manson's wire.

Offices Wrecked.

Prince George, April 26.—Returned soldiers here last night wrecked the real estate offices of Max Schenk and Conrad Reinhardt, Germans, and the Arcade Restaurant, owned by Joe Tadin, a foreigner, accused by the soldiers of having made seditious remarks. Resentment against the Germans here is still strong and further trouble is feared. Eight of ten enemy aliens have been given notice to leave the district at a few hours' notice.

SECRET DOCUMENTS IN GERMANY UNPUBLISHED

London, April 26.—Karl Kautsky, one of the Under-Secretaries in the German Foreign Ministry, who has finished an examination of the secret documents of the German Foreign Office, a task assigned to him by the Government last winter, is quoted as saying, was responsible for the order that the documents be not made public. Kautsky was greatly surprised at this attitude of the German Government, and pointed out that the refusal to make the documents public would have a very bad effect in the Allied countries and would perpetuate suspicions of the good faith of Germany by revealing that the revolutionary Government is prepared to shield the old rulers of Germany.

Mathias Erzberger, head of the German Armistice Commission, Kautsky is quoted as saying, was responsible for the order that the documents be not made public. Kautsky was greatly surprised at this attitude of the German Government, and pointed out that the refusal to make the documents public would have a very bad effect in the Allied countries and would perpetuate suspicions of the good faith of Germany by revealing that the revolutionary Government is prepared to shield the old rulers of Germany.

LABOR DEMONSTRATION
IN FRANCE MAY 1

Paris, April 26.—The Congress of the Federation of Transport Workers of France decided yesterday that all sections of the Federation will suspend work on May 1 and join in the demonstration planned for that day. M. Laurent, of the General Labor Federation, addressing the Congress, declared that May 1 would be the "final warning to the public authorities to satisfy the claims of workingmen."

AUSTRIAN DELEGATES TO GERMAN ASSEMBLY

Vienna, April 24.—Via Copenhagen, April 26.—The German Government has invited the German-Austrian Government to send five members of the German-Austrian National Assembly to Weimar to join in the discussions of the German National Assembly and have a voice in the transactions of that body. After Chancellor Renner had made a strong address in favor of the proposal, the House adopted a motion accepting it and selected Abt, a Social-Democrat; Raneck, a Christian Socialist; Weber, a Pan-German; Hillebrand, a German Bohemian and Professor Hugelmann to go to Weimar.

REPORTED WEKERLE
DIED IN PRISON

London, April 26.—A dispatch to the Central News says Vienna newspapers report that Dr. Alexander Wekerle, former Hungarian Premier and Minister of Finance, has died in prison.

Dr. Wekerle, for fifteen years one of the leading figures in Hungarian public life, was arrested by the Communist Government on March 25. Later it was reported that he had been executed at Budapest, but this the Soviet Ministry denied.

"Bankers Insist Upon Life Insurance"

At our Annual Meeting on February 6th last, a very prominent Canadian Banker addressed the policyholders, saying among other things:

"As a banker I believe in Life Insurance. All bankers do. They are ever anxious that the lives and homes of their debtors should be covered by life insurance. In fact, bankers insist upon life insurance. Many of you here present are clients of banks, and being policyholders you realize the value bankers place upon life insurance when you apply for credit."

Life Insurance is essential in modern business. It strengthens credit; it protects the endorser; it is a resource not liable to taxation, and is in itself an asset of steadily increasing value. In addition, it is a means of providing for the payment of succession dues or death duties. Write for literature explaining the many uses of business insurance.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Victoria Times, April 26, 1894.

The contract for the erection of the Pemberton Gymnasium was signed yesterday by Mayor Teague and Chairman Hayward of the School Board. The contract price is $2,714.

A few days ago a twenty-four foot sloop with all sails set, carried along by the breeze, came sailing to Lopez Island and brought up on the beach. Those who saw the sloop came in believed that she was occupied, but found she was not. It is believed that some accident befell her occupants.

There are about seventy-five men at work on the Government Buildings at present and more are to be put on in a few days.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Squiggle Bug

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis)

"Dear me, Uncle Wiggily! Aren't you going to work in your garden this morning?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, as she saw the bunny rabbit gentleman hopping away from his low-stump bungalow.

"Not to-day," answered Uncle Wiggily with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "I am going to take a hop, skip and a jump through the woods and see what sort of an adventure I'll have."

"Is your garden all right?" asked the muskrat lady.

"I think it will keep until I come back," answered Mr. Longears.

Away he went, over the fields and through the woods, and he was wondering what sort of adventure he would have, when all of a sudden, he heard a voice saying:

"Well, there's no use in me trying to get anywhere. I'm so little and my legs are so short it will take me ten years to get where I want to go."

"Where do you want to go?" asked Uncle Wiggily without stopping to think. And no sooner had he asked the question than he remembered that perhaps it might be the bad Skeezicks or the Pipsisewah who had spoken.

"But they haven't short legs, and they aren't little, though the bunny. I guess I'm all right. Who are you and where do you want to go?" he asked again.

"Oh, I'm the Squiggle bug," was the answer, "and I want to go down to the corner."

"What corner?" asked Uncle Wiggily, peering all around through his spectacles, but not seeing any bug.

"There are many corners in these woods. Which one do you want to reach?" asked the bunny.

"I want to go to the corner drug store," was the answer. "My wife sent me to get a postage stamp, but my legs are so short and I'm so little that I'll never get there."

"Allow me to have the pleasure of helping you," said Uncle Wiggily kindly.

"But, Mr. Squiggle bug, I can't see you," spoke the bunny.

"Here I am, under this leaf," said the little voice, and, looking down, the bunny rabbit saw a queer little green bug, who seemed to be laughing all the while, and twisting and turning about in the queerest way you can imagine.

"I'll carry you down to the corner drug store," said Uncle Wiggily to the green bug. "I can hop very fast and it will be no trouble at all."

"Thank you," spoke the Squiggle bug, as Uncle Wiggily picked him up. "You are very kind."

"Oh, but you must keep still if I am to carry you in my paw," said Mr. Longears, for no sooner had he picked up the Squiggle bug than the little chap began squirming and twisting and turning and wiggling all over.

"Please keep still! You tickle me so! Ouch! How you tickle!" and Uncle Wiggily laughed until he nearly had the hiccoughs. "Can't you keep still?" he asked.

"No, answered the little chap. "I can't. That's why I'm called the Squiggle bug, because I always squiggle so much."

"You certainly are a queer chap!" laughed the bunny, changing the Squiggle bug from one paw to the other. "My goodness! How you tickle!" and the bunny laughed and laughed and laughed so hard that he almost had a convulsion fit.

"I'll try to keep still," promised the bug, and he didn't squiggle quite so hard for a little while. And then, all of a sudden, as Mr. Longears was hopping along under a mulberry bush, out popped the bad old fox.

"Oh, ho!" barked the fox. "Once again I have caught you, Uncle Wiggily! And don't think you'll get away this time! I'm going to take you off to my den, and when I get you there, well, we'll see what will happen!" he said, smacking his lips.

Then the fox noticed that Uncle Wiggily had something in his left paw.

"What have you there?" asked the fox, cunningly.

"Oh, what a poor little Squiggle bug," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Ha! I don't believe you! You are trying to fool me!" barked the fox. "You have something good to eat in your paw—an apple dumpling for I know! Give it to me at once!"

"All right! Just as you say!" spoke Uncle Wiggily. So the bunny put the Squiggle bug in the paw of the fox, and then and there that funny bug began to squiggle and wiggle, and he so tickled the fox that the bad creature laughed and sneezed and turned a somersault and a pepperaut.

"Oh, what a sensation! Oh, I'm tickled to pieces!" cried the fox, and away he ran, dropping the Squiggle bug on some soft moss, and the bad chap didn't take Uncle Wiggily away that day.

Then the bunny put the Squiggle bug in a basket made from a green leaf, so he wouldn't tickle any one, and carried him to the drug store, and everything came out all right. And the roller skates don't fall down the back steps when they're trying to play tag with the baby carriage I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the candy pull.

Many a picture illustrates the story of the artist's hard luck.

Lady Hughes has been making a tour of California, and is now going to join her husband, who is attending a session of the Canadian Parliament.

On Wednesday, May 21, by the kindness of Mrs. Dunsmuir (who is herself a member of the chapter), the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I. O. D. E., will hold a fete in the grounds of Hatley Park in celebration of the birthday of Florence Nightingale, and in commemoration of her followers—the brave women of the nursing profession who have served so nobly in the great war.

Canadians registered in London recently included the following Victorians: Lieut. C. Beeston, Capt. A. E. Craddock, Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Foote, Lieut. J. J. Greig, R.A.F., John Harrington, R. G. Rose, J. M. Milligan, A. H. Musgrave, J.C.N., M. C. Pauline, Miss Ethyl M. Reid, V.A.D., Capt. W. Crawley Ricardo, and Capt. L. Walthman, of Qualicum Beach.

The members of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I. O. D. E., held a very enjoyable and successful silver tea and sale of home cooking at the home of Mrs. James Baker, 714 Discovery Street, yesterday afternoon, many visitors attending the event. In the evening a military five hundred tournament was held at the residence, when the social and financial success of the afternoon's affair was repeated. As a result of the dual affair the chapter's funds were handsomely augmented.

Local friends of the bride and groom will be interested in the announcement, in the recent issue of Canada, of the marriage of Thomas Sturley Chutter, Capt. 10th Battalion, and Staff Capt. 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade, to Clover May Walker, Nursing Sister, C. A. M. C., eldest daughter of Charles Y. Walker, of Vancouver. B. C. Mrs. Chutter was at duty at No. 1, Canadian General Hospital during the last spring. Captain Chutter, an original 1st Division ranker, after being seriously wounded in January, 1916, returned to France in the fall of the same year, and gained the M. C. on the Somme. After a year's duty in England on staff appointments at Witteley and Shorncliffe, he returned to France last August as staff-captain to his old brigade.

From the Vancouver World: "A farewell surprise was tendered Miss Stevenson Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Kathie Kenmore, 957 Nicola Street, by the Tustile Sunday school class of the First Congregational Church and members of the crew of the 'Frolicking Forty.' Miss Stevenson, after six years in this city, is leaving to take up her residence in, Victoria. The evening was spent in singing and games. A photograph album was presented to Miss Stevenson, containing the photos of many friends."

More than usual interest attaches to the forthcoming annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter, I. O. D. E., to be held in the Alexandra House on Tuesday and Wednesday next, by reason of the fact that the session will be the first annual meeting following the signing of the armistice and the plans for reconstruction work by the Order in the Province will come up for consideration.

Many Delegates Coming. Many delegates are expected from the mainland and from all parts of Vancouver Island and their registration will begin on Monday afternoon at the Provincial headquarters at Alexandra House, where Mrs. Cecil Cookson, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Macfarlane, will act as the credentials committee. The reception committee will comprise Mrs. Croft, regent, and officers of the Provincial Chapter, and Mrs. A. F. Griffiths, regent, and officers of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E.; while the decorations and arrangements will be in the hands of Mrs. Curtis Sampson and Mrs. Hargreaves.

Important Reports. Some of the outstanding features of business for the two days are as follows:

Tuesday, April 23, morning session: Salutation of the Flag and singing of National Anthem; address of welcome by Mrs. Belson, Victoria; reply, Mrs. Moffatt, Fernie; appointment of committees; minutes of last annual meeting; reports of Municipal Chapters, Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Chilliwack, Burnaby, Prince Rupert, and much Provincial Primaries as are represented by delegates.

Afternoon session: Reports (continued); president's address; reports of Provincial Chapter executive, treasurer and auditors; organizing secretary; Echoes secretary; and on amendments to constitution. During this session election of the twenty-five councillors will take place.

Entertainment Plans. The business meeting will adjourn at 3.45 on Tuesday, and afterwards Mrs. Henry Croft, Provincial President, will entertain the officers, delegates and members of the Provincial Chapter, I. O. D. E. at her residence, Mount Adelaide, from 4.30 to 6.30. At the noon intermission on the same day, Mrs. Albert Griffiths, Regent, and other officers of the Municipal Chapter, Victoria, will entertain at luncheon at Alexandra House.

The programme for Wednesday includes, in the morning, a synopsis by the secretary of unrepresented chapter reports and the consideration of resolutions bearing on the provision for orphanage or home for soldiers' children, the status of soldiers' wives who have been deserted, the matter of an Anti-German League, and the price of foodstuffs. The election of officers for the Provincial Chapter for 1920 will take place at the close of the Wednesday morning session, when the council of twenty-five will choose from their number.

National Matters. The Wednesday afternoon session will commence at 2.15, and there will be discussed at this time matters forward-

More than usual interest attaches to the forthcoming annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter, I. O. D. E., to be held in the Alexandra House on Tuesday and Wednesday next, by reason of the fact that the session will be the first annual meeting following the signing of the armistice and the plans for reconstruction work by the Order in the Province will come up for consideration.

Many Delegates Coming. Many delegates are expected from the mainland and from all parts of Vancouver Island and their registration will begin on Monday afternoon at the Provincial headquarters at Alexandra House, where Mrs. Cecil Cookson, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Macfarlane, will act as the credentials committee. The reception committee will comprise Mrs. Croft, regent, and officers of the Provincial Chapter, and Mrs. A. F. Griffiths, regent, and officers of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E.; while the decorations and arrangements will be in the hands of Mrs. Curtis Sampson and Mrs. Hargreaves.

Important Reports. Some of the outstanding features of business for the two days are as follows:

Tuesday, April 23, morning session: Salutation of the Flag and singing of National Anthem; address of welcome by Mrs. Belson, Victoria; reply, Mrs. Moffatt, Fernie; appointment of committees; minutes of last annual meeting; reports of Municipal Chapters, Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Chilliwack, Burnaby, Prince Rupert, and much Provincial Primaries as are represented by delegates.

Afternoon session: Reports (continued); president's address; reports of Provincial Chapter executive, treasurer and auditors; organizing secretary; Echoes secretary; and on amendments to constitution. During this session election of the twenty-five councillors will take place.

Entertainment Plans. The business meeting will adjourn at 3.45 on Tuesday, and afterwards Mrs. Henry Croft, Provincial President, will entertain the officers, delegates and members of the Provincial Chapter, I. O. D. E. at her residence, Mount Adelaide, from 4.30 to 6.30. At the noon intermission on the same day, Mrs. Albert Griffiths, Regent, and other officers of the Municipal Chapter, Victoria, will entertain at luncheon at Alexandra House.

The programme for Wednesday includes, in the morning, a synopsis by the secretary of unrepresented chapter reports and the consideration of resolutions bearing on the provision for orphanage or home for soldiers' children, the status of soldiers' wives who have been deserted, the matter of an Anti-German League, and the price of foodstuffs. The election of officers for the Provincial Chapter for 1920 will take place at the close of the Wednesday morning session, when the council of twenty-five will choose from their number.

National Matters. The Wednesday afternoon session will commence at 2.15, and there will be discussed at this time matters forward-

STREET CAR TANGLE TAKES A NEW TURN

City to Negotiate Further With Manager of Transportation Company

Victoria's transportation problem has taken a new turn with the intimation of A. T. Goward, Local Manager of the B. C. Electric Railway Company, of his willingness to meet representatives of the city in an effort to solve the present tangle. The special committee which has had the matter in hand for some time has been notified of Mr. Goward's decision, and an early conference with him is anticipated.

While the possibility of another attempt at a solution of the dilemma is welcomed by the civic authorities, the Aldermen recall that it was made pretty plain to him previously that jitney control would be a necessary preliminary to any settlement, the establishment of a six-cent fare and lower lighting rates. As the city failed to secure powers of jitney regulation and prohibition it seems to members of the Council that any change in existing transportation condition is as far off as ever.

This new development will probably mean that the transportation problem will not be referred to the Public Utilities Commission at once. It is not thought probable now that the matter will be considered by the Council for some time yet, but in the meantime the outcome of the conference with Mr. Goward will be eagerly awaited.

DIES FROM INJURIES AT HAREWOOD MINE

Nanaimo Miner Fatally Hurt; Retailers' Association; Odd Fellowship

Nanaimo, April 26.—Henry Clark, a resident of Craig Street, Fairview, died in the Nanaimo Hospital yesterday morning from the effects of injuries received in the Harewood Mine on Thursday evening, when he was struck by a quantity of falling coal.

The deceased was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, aged thirty-five years, and had resided in Nanaimo for the past nine years. He leaves to mourn his death his wife and five children, the youngest but a week old.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Nanaimo Retail Merchants' Association was held last night in the Board of Trade room, a Board of Directors being elected as follows: J. B. Nicholson, Robert Wilson, Harvey Murphy, V. H. Watchorn, F. A. Busby, J. W. Coburn, Fred Jepson, H. Thornycroft, E. Conroy and Paul Bennett. J. F. Edge Partington was appointed secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. George S. Hougham, who is now organizer for the Provincial Association.

Members of Black Diamond Lodge No. 5 and Daughters of Rebekah, I. O. O. F., of Nanaimo, last evening fittingly celebrated the centennial anniversary of the founding of the Order, a large turnout of members of both lodges being entertained to a late hour by a varied programme.

Noble Grand Bro. William Ritchie presided over the festivities, Bro. E. G. Cavasny giving a few remarks on the work of Odd Fellowship, tracing the progress made by the Order during the hundred years of its existence.

Bastion Chapter, Nanaimo.—An entertainment of merit was given in St. Paul's Institute last evening under the auspices of Bastion Chapter, I. O. O. F., of the patients and staff of the Qualicum Military Hospital. There was a large attendance, the hall being taxed to capacity by a most appreciative audience, every member on the lengthy programme being well received and applauded.

CURING DISCONTENT OVER LIQUOR PRICE

Druggists to Get Ten Per Cent.
Discount From Government;
Other Changes

Because they were obliged to pay the same rates for liquor as the ordinary individual the Druggists of British Columbia have felt compelled to charge prices for the filling of prescriptions much higher than those obtaining for the identical article at the Government Vendor's store.

Many complaints have reached the office of the Prohibition Commissioner of alleged exorbitant prices charged by the Druggists, and in order to assist in a general reduction to harmonize more nearly with the official store prices, a discount of ten per cent. henceforward will be allowed to the Druggists by the Government. This arrangement has now gone into effect.

Commencing on June 1 next all prescriptions for liquor issued by the medical profession in British Columbia must be on a printed form to be supplied by the Government. The first series of the new form will be numbered consecutively from 1 to 100,000, this departure having been provided for in the amendments to the British Columbia Prohibition Act passed at the recent session of the Legislature.

One of the principal objects of the act is the protection of both the medical man and Government against abuse and forgery of prescriptions.

CADET CORPS HOLDS A SUCCESSFUL BALL

Present and Past High School
Students Revel at Delightful Function

Of all the delightful social affairs held by the teachers and students of institution, the Victoria High School Cadet Corps' fifth annual ball at the Alexandra Club last night will be remembered as one of the most successful in every way.

Some hundred and fifty couples enjoyed the dance, the attendance being notable for the large number of old V. H. S. boys who have recently returned from overseas, and for the numerous ladies and gentlemen who studied at the school some years ago and who had enjoyed the Cadet Corps' balls on previous occasions.

At a function of this kind teachers mingled freely with their pupils and the restraint of the class room was quite thrown aside. The military air was supplied by the smart uniforms of the cadet officers, and by the flags and emblems which decked the ball room. The huge Service Flag recently presented to the corps as a recognition of the splendid war service performed by its former members attracted general admiration. Dancing continued until early in the morning, a dainty supper being served by the girls of the school.

The patrons of the ball were: His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and Lady Barnard, the Hon. Dr. and Mrs. MacLean, Major R. G. Leggie, C. M. G., G. O. C., M. D. 11; Captain E. H. Martin, E. C. N., G. M. G., and the Camosun Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire. The chaperones were Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. A. G. Smith, Mrs. Clarke, Miss Cann, Miss Henry and Miss A. Macleod. The committee which managed the affair so successfully was composed of: Miss Jenny Macleod, Miss Adams, Miss Henry, Miss Huntley, Mr. Clark, Cadet Instructor, Lieut. Hutchinson, Cadet Major A. Moore, Cadet Captain Douglas Wallace, Cadet Capt. Harrington McIntosh and Claude Campbell.

The music was supplied by Heaton's orchestra. The thanks of the Corps are due to the girls who prepared the supper and to the boys who supplied motors. A handsome sum of money toward the reinforcing of the Cadets was realized through the affair.

CABARET DANCE TO BE SOCIAL FEATURE

Aerial League Assured of Great Attendance in Empress Ballroom Monday Night

Everything is ready for the grand cabaret dance to be held in the Empress ballroom on Monday night for the purpose of securing funds for the Aerial League of Canada. One of the largest crowds that has gathered in the fine ballroom this season is expected, and the boys are quite gratified over the manner in which the tickets have been selling.

Mrs. R. H. Pooley is arranging the musical programme, and with one so capable in charge, it is to be assured that the best artists do the entertaining. Mrs. D'Oley Rochfort will give the "Powder Puff" dance by special request and Mrs. D. B. McConnan, Miss Mamie Fraser and Mrs. Wallace Courtney will also be heard.

Professor Lou Turner's orchestra will furnish the music for the evening. Dancing will commence at 9 o'clock, and continue until 2 o'clock.

Among the patrons of the social event are His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and Lady Barnard and Major-General R. G. E. Leckie, C. M. G., G. O. C.

As the cabaret is being given for a very worthy object it is hoped that Victorians will largely patronize the event. The Aerial League has purchased a machine from Toronto, and it will shortly be flying about giving demonstrations. The flyers in charge are devoting their services free to the development of aerial navigation, and are hopeful that their efforts will be appreciated by the general public. Profitably to show this appreciation the public should patronize the cabaret.

Tickets are on sale at Wilkerson's, Jewellery Store, O'Connell's, Whitney's, Strath's and Steele's Cigar Store. Tables in the ballroom may be reserved on application to G. A. Cameron, Union Bank Building.

DEADLOCK REACHED IN PRINCETON STRIKE

Foreign Railway Workers Determined to Stand by Their Claims

Not much headway was made by Duncan McCallum, technical adviser to the Provincial Department of Labor, in his efforts to bring about a settlement of the strike of some 600 employees on railway construction between Princeton and the Canada Copper Corporation's plant some miles distant. The men are in the employ of the W. P. Tierney Construction Company. Practically a deadlock has been reached, for the time being at least.

Mr. McCallum left early in the week for Princeton and consulted with both sides but neither party would negotiate. Last fall the men worked a ten-hour day at a minimum of forty cents per hour. Toward winter it was cut down to nine hours and when on April 1 the company announced that the ten-hour day would go into effect again the men balked. Now they insist on an eight-hour day and a minimum of fifty cents per hour with no overtime or Sunday work. The company says it stands ready to resume on the nine-hour, forty-cent basis.

Mr. McCallum says that most of the railway construction employees are foreigners, some of them enemy aliens. No serious trouble threatens, but if the strike goes on it is possible, he says, that the Canada Copper Corporation will have to shut down its plant, as railway facilities are absolutely essential to their operations.

A conference has been held between J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, and Mr. McCallum concerning the trouble, but so far no solution has been found for the difficulty.

"I Do Not Know Just What Is The Matter But I Seem To Be Losing My Grip"

"WELL, I know. You have been worrying too much until you have got your nervous system all run down."

"I could not help that. I guess you would worry, too, if you had all the troubles I have had."

"Perhaps. But I think I have learned a lesson. Worrying does not get you anywhere."

"Well, what am I to do?"

"If you will take my advice you will use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. That is what got my nervous system right when I had that breakdown a couple of years ago, and I have been talking it up ever since."

"How will it benefit me?"

"It will restore vigor to your nervous system. The trouble is now that your nerve force is at such a low ebb that your vital organs are slow and weak in action. You do not get the good of the food you eat, and for this reason you have no chance of gaining strength and vitality."

"But how long will I have to take this treatment?"

"If you could take a rest it would help some, but mark my words you will not be using the Nerve Food more than a week or two before you begin to see the benefits, and then you will not need me to encourage you in its use."

"I think I will follow your advice, for judging from what you say the Nerve Food is exactly what I need."

"You will not be sorry, for I have recommended it to scores of men in just such condition as you are to-day, and I know just what it will do."

"Thank you, old man, I only hope it will give me such energy and vitality as you have."

"It certainly will if you give it a fair chance."

"Now I Realize Why So Many Women Have Quit Baking"

"I've been 'keeping house' for over six years, baking bread—with successful bread a great uncertainty. Sometimes the dough would sour on me; sometimes it would fail to rise; other times the bread would be coarse, soggy and 'dried-out'. Here in this bakery I see thousands of loaves, all with the same nut-brown crusts—all of the same flaky texture."

Scientific methods in the 4-X Bakery have eliminated this uncertainty. You'll see processing, "timed" machines, always at an even temperature, that takes the kneaded dough to the moulding machine in which it is prepared for the bread pan. From there, it is taken to one of a row of ovens, half a block long and all under the same heat control. That's why Shelly's 4-X Bread is always uniform—"Day in and day out." Try it and see.

CHURCHES OBSERVE YPRES ANNIVERSARY

Veterans to Attend St. John's; Celebration of St. George's Day Also

The anniversary of the famous Battle of Ypres, in which the Canadians added to their laurels and where their bravery and determination to overcome the foe cost them innumerable sacrifices, particularly the noble Seventh Battalion, whose Victoria veterans returned to the city to-day amid the great rejoicing of the citizens will be commemorated in a number of the city churches to-morrow.

Special services and special music has been arranged at St. John's Anglican Church, Quadra Street, the local veteran associations will attend divine service at 7.30 o'clock in the evening, when the text for the sermon will have suitable reference to the great event.

Some of the churches are planning to repeat their Easter music given last Sunday, and as to-morrow is the nearest Sunday to St. George's Day services will also be held in celebration of that event, including St. Mary's at Oak Bay.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS FURNISH REST ROOM

The Christian Science Church, which has done much excellent work in its Camp Welfare Rooms in England in the United States, has extended that branch of its activities into Canada. Whilst the headquarters of the movement in British Columbia are at Vancouver, there is a branch in Victoria, which is doing much to help the returned men.

One feature of the relief work in Victoria is a rest room at 405 Union Bank Building, where telephone, typewriter, writing materials, daily papers and other literature are provided. All are invited to make use of this room—naval men as well as military, men in uniform or out of uniform. Any returned man in town wishing to spend a restful hour or to communicate with or meet his friends will find here just what he needs.

The object of this work is not one of propaganda; its aim is to show appreciation of the heroic sacrifices made by the men and to do everything possible to supply their immediate human needs.

Dr. Clay at Nanaimo—Rev. W. Leslie Clay, D.D., left on this afternoon's train for Nanaimo, where he will speak to-morrow in connection with the Forward Movement of the First Presbyterian Church.

BIBLE'S INFLUENCE ON SHAKESPEARE

Interesting Address Given in Vancouver by B. C. University Librarian

"Shakespeare's indebtedness to the Bible" was the subject of an interesting address delivered in Vancouver a few days ago by John Ridington, librarian of the B. C. University.

In the course of his able address, Mr. Ridington pointed out that the Renaissance and the Reformation were parallel events, that the church in the reign of Elizabeth held enormous disciplinary control over England, that church attendance was compulsory and that Shakespeare, as a member of the Lord Chamberlain's company of actors, would of necessity hear much Scripture reading. This, to a man of his receptive and retentive mind, would of itself perhaps be sufficient to account for the extensive use of the Bible in his dramas.

The lecturer described the Great Bible, the Bishop's and the Geneva Bibles in general use before 1600. He believed Shakespeare to be an omnivorous, rapid and a retentive reader, with the ability to recall at will phrases, illustrations and incidents long after they had been read. As to the extent to which Shakespeare used the Bible in his dramas, Mr. Ridington stated that God was mentioned 700 times therein.

Forty-four Bible characters are mentioned, and in addition, thirty-three Scriptural incidents. One writer gives 140 pages of Shakespearean quotation, alleged to have Scriptural reference.

Shakespeare's Code. The lecturer asserted that in a larger sense than in the use of biblical phrases and incidents, the work of Shakespeare was essentially religious, Christian. The code of morals, the philosophy of life, the ethical atmosphere he creates, all accord with the standards set up in Holy Writ. With him, retribution is bound up in the very act of wrongdoing, and the instrument of punishment is often the conscience, the wrongdoer's own violated sense of right and duty.

Dealing with the accusation sometimes made that Shakespeare had no sense of the immortal because he did not, like Virgil and Dante, enter the realm of an imaginary heaven or hell, Mr. Ridington expressed his own view that the spirit of any religion, the belief in immortality cannot be successfully dramatized. All that can be done is to portray the expression of the human in whose soul religion and immortality are a constant belief and an abiding hope. Even the Bible, the lecturer affirmed, assumed, but nowhere asserted, immortality. Christ himself taught the conditions, but throughout assumed the fact. Shakespeare's method was identical. Behind and above all Shakespeare's thinking there existed the assumption, the belief that there was an unarguable connection, that life beyond the grave was a reality, that only through that part of it called by men, time, he is throughout a consi-ent and faithful witness to the scriptural doctrine of immortality.

Like "Revelations." The great mass of the plays, Mr. Ridington said, were of the very stuff and texture that constitutes the written Revelation. On them has been expended more diligent study than has been accorded to any book but one. The eternal truths as to man's life and destiny, set forth in that other Book, constitute an important element woven into the very fabric of Shakespeare, and are part of the secret of his power over the sense of duty, the sense of beauty, and the conscience of mankind.

The lecture, which was followed with keen interest throughout, was liberally illustrated by both biblical and Shakespearean quotations.

WILL EXCHANGE LAND

Agreement Between City and Christian Science Church to Be Considered Monday.

An exchange in property between the First Church of Christ, Scientist, and the city will be provided for in a by-law to be considered by the City Council on Monday night.

It is intended that the City shall take part of the new church site along Pandora Avenue, thus making the street parallel with other streets in the vicinity, and that the church in return shall be given a portion of land on Chambers Street where the corporation owns considerable property. The City will gain from this transaction a few square feet of land more than the church. The by-law covering this arrangement was scheduled for consideration last week, but the withdrawal of a number of aldermen and the consequent lack of quorum made this impossible.

Altering Sunday School—The Board of Managers of the First Presbyterian Church have let the contract for subdividing the Sunday School into class rooms to Robert Sward, and the work is now being carried out. On completion the school will have sixteen class rooms, two club rooms, a secretary's office and a library.

To Direct Young People's Work—A meeting was held in the First Presbyterian Church, at which two delegates from each of the Board of Management, Ladies' Aid, Young People's Society, the Session and the Sunday School met to consider the question of the appointment of a director of Young People's Work. After consideration and discussion of all phases of the question it was decided to call a meeting of the congregation, when the pressing needs of the young people and the boys and girls, and the recommendation that a director be appointed, will be laid before the meeting.

Ypres Anniversary Service—A service commemorative of the second battle of Ypres will be held at St. John's Church to-morrow evening, and will be attended by the members of the G.W.V.A., Comrades of the Great War and Army and Navy Veterans for force. Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick will conduct the service. The choir will be augmented by a number of returned soldiers. At the morning service Bishop de Pencier of Vancouver, who has recently returned from overseas service, will be the preacher.

WILL PARADE TO ST. JAMES' CHURCH

Boys Naval Brigade Will Hold Its First Church Parade
To-morrow

The Boys' Naval Brigade, under command of Captain D. Jones-Evans, will parade to St. James' Church to attend the 11 o'clock service to-morrow morning and Rev. H. T. Archibald, the rector, will preach on a topic suitable to the occasion.

The Brigade will assemble at the headquarters, James' Athletic Association Building, Belleville Street, and march to the church at the corner of Quebec and St. John Street.

The local branch of the Navy League of Canada feels that the results obtained from the establishment of this brigade have more than justified the trouble and expense undertaken in its formation. The strength of the Brigade has been kept at fifty, although it would have been possible to have enlisted many more than that number, the question of providing uniforms and equipment for the boys being one that for the time being was thought inadvisable.

The training received by the boys has had an exceedingly beneficial effect in many ways, and the advantages of conforming to proper discipline have been generally recognized in the minds of most of the boys of the troop.

Great interest has been displayed in the drills and the nautical education. The knowledge gained has been found to stand the boys in good stead on frequent occasions. The turnout to-morrow will be the first church parade by the Brigade since its formation, and also the first public appearance since the visit to this port of the American training vessels during the Made-in-Victoria Exhibition.

KINGSLEY CENTENARY TO BE COMMEMORATED

Anniversary of Preacher-Novelist's Birth to Be Honored in June

London, April 25.—The memory of Charles Kingsley, the preacher-novelist, who died on this date in 1875, is to be signally honored next June, on the occasion of the one hundred anniversary of his birth. To the general public the name of Kingsley is perhaps best known as that of the author of "Westward Ho." But in his day he was celebrated as a preacher of socialistic doctrines and an ardent advocate of social reforms, many of which have since been accomplished facts.

Early Sermon.

Kingsley was born in Devonshire and was the son of a country parson. He is said to have preached his first sermon when he was four years old, and his mother kept it as a curiosity. In this young Charles said: "Nobody can tell how the devil can be chased in hell. If humanity, honesty and good religion fade we can to a certainty get them back by being good again. Religion is reading ood books, doing good actions and not telling lies and speaking evil, and not calling young brother a fool."

Six months after graduating at Cambridge Kingsley was settled as curate at Eversley, which place continued to be his home during the remainder of his life. In working at Eversley Mr. Kingsley began to realize the need of a Christian socialism in England. With this decision he took his place in English life as a parson, a politician, an author and a strenuous worker to save souls.

He wrote for the working man under the title of "Parson Lot," and told him that he must free himself from his own wicked inclinations before he could pass from under the cruel power of bad social conditions. His strongest stories dealing with the subject of socialism in its highest sense are "Yeast" and "Alton Locke."

Canon of Westminster.

Kingsley was made Canon of Westminster shortly before his death, and is buried in the famous abbey. Once when a friend wished him a long life Kingsley said, "Ask for me anything but that. Let us live hard, work hard, and go a good pace and get to our journey's end as soon as possible."

On the side of a range of hills and overlooking Blidford bay now stands the town of "Westward Ho," which was named by Kingsley, who told the adventures of Sir Amyas Leigh during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. In the town of Blidford there is a statue of Charles Kingsley, whose memory is held in fond pride in the town. Kingsley was only twenty when he met Panny Grenfell, and she was the love of his life. He found in her a constant inspiration, and from a study of her he came to the conclusion "that every woman who has made a moderate use of her time is far beyond man in true philosophy."

BISHOP DE PENCIER HERE

Anglican Soldier-Bishop Preaching To-morrow; to Address Boys.

Paying his first visit to Victoria since his recent return from the front, Right Rev. Adam U. de Pencier, Anglican Bishop of New Westminster, will occupy the pulpits of two city churches. The Bishop will also address a mass gathering of older boys at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral. This service is arranged specially for all boys of fourteen years and over of the Anglican churches in the city.

During the past three years, Dr. de Pencier has acted as chaplain and bishop to the Canadian forces overseas, and for some time the bishop and also his three sons have been serving in khaki. Only about a month ago Dr. de Pencier returned to the Pacific coast, and to his duties as Bishop of the diocese of New Westminster. It is doubly significant that the Bishop's visit coincides with commemorative services of the anniversary of the second battle of Ypres.

PRETTY WEDDING AT VICTORIA WEST

Miss Mabel Rutman Married to Lincoln Redgrave on Thursday Evening

One of the prettiest weddings of the post-Lenten season had its setting at St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, on Thursday evening at 8.30 p. m. when Mabel Florence, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rutman, of 706 Pine Street, was married to Lincoln Redgrave, second son of the late Inspector and Mrs. S. L. Redgrave, of Harbinger Avenue.

The big assembly of friends rose and sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," as the bride entered the church on her father's arm. She made a winsome picture in her beautiful wedding gown of ivory Duchesse satin, with sleeves and yoke of whiteorgette, and veil of snowy tulle caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and maiden-hair fern. Her one bridesmaid was her cousin, Miss Violet Harper, prettily gowned in pink crepe-de-chine, with hat to match and carrying a sheaf of pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother Almsley Redgrave. Mrs. Rutman, the mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in Wisteria satin and silver lace, with hat to match, while the mother of the groom wore a becoming frock of black satin with smart black hat. As the bridal party left the church, the Wedding March was played by G. Jennings Burnett, an old friend of the bride's family.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The drawing-room was charmingly decorated in yellow and white, while the nuptial hall under which the young couple stood to receive the felicitations of their many friends was fashioned of apple-blossoms and real orange blossoms, the latter a gift to the bride from a friend in Southern California. The dining room where a delicious supper was served, and where the bride cut the three-tier wedding cake was decorated in pink and white, this color scheme being reflected in the floral decorations of the table and in the streamers pendant from the electric. Mrs. Rutman was assisted in the work of decorating the reception rooms by Mrs. Wm. Steven. Among the numerous and beautiful presents received by the young couple were two leather-upholstered oak armchairs, the gift of the employees of the B. C. Electric Company, where the groom is employed on the staff of the Meter Department. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold wrist watch, to the best man a cameo brooch, and to the best man a pearl brooch, while the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl tie-pin.

Mr. and Mrs. Redgrave left yesterday on S. S. President for California, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride travelling in a smart suit of navy blue gabardine trimmed with military braid and French model hat en suite. On their return in about a month's time, they will make their home in Victoria.

Older Boys are invited to hear Bishop de Pencier, for three years with Canadian soldiers overseas, Sunday afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral, at 4 o'clock. This service arranged especially for all boys fourteen and over of the Anglican church.

Pencil Cases delight the children, and offset their cost in pencils saved, and not lost. Outfitted with good pencils, pens, drinking cups, erasers, rulers, etc., from 50c. up at Macey's Stationery and Gift Shop, 617 View Street.

COL. PECK'S RECEPTION

Returned Men Gather to Organize Greeting for Their Old Chief.

A meeting was held in the Camrades' Club last evening of returned men of the 16th and 20th Battalions for the purpose of arranging a fitting welcome for the heroic commander of the Canadian Scottish, Lieut.-Col. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., M.P.

Thomas Birch, appointed chairman of a committee consisting of F. A. Abrahams, E. G. Holmes, A. Little and C. Freegard to follow out a scheme of welcome outlined at the meeting. T. A. Durke, secretary of the committee, wishes it pointed out that all returned men of the old 30th Battalion, whether they were sent to the 16th Battalion, 7th Battalion or any other when the split was made, are asked to lend a hand preparing the welcome. They are asked to hand in their names to Mr. Darke at the Savoy Mansions.

The committee will keep in touch with Col. Peck's movements and, as soon as some news is received as to the approximate date of his arrival, the date for the welcome and re-union will be announced.

NAVY LEAGUE MEETING

Local Branch Will Elect New Chairman Next Wednesday; Other Business.

In view of the resignation of F. A. McDiarmid, who is leaving for Vancouver to resume his legal practice, the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada will hold an extraordinary general meeting in the Belmont Buildings at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening for the purpose of electing a successor.

The meeting will also consider a resolution received from the Provincial division having reference to an advance to be made in order to liquidate the liabilities of the local branch. Discussion will also take place on the question of putting the local branch on a self-supporting basis. The proposal will also come before the meeting to elect a president, and not less than six other members to form a Ladies' Guild, and it is also probable that an advisory board of fifteen members will be elected.

ODDFELLOWS MARK ORDER'S CENTENARY

Special Anniversary Service Will Be Held To-morrow Afternoon

Commemorative of the hundredth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellowship, a special service will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall to-morrow afternoon at 3 p. m. the Rev. A. deB. Owen officiating.

Its Branches.—The first lodge in British Columbia was instituted at Victoria on March 19, 1854, and was named Victoria Lodge No. 1. "Vancouver" Encampment No. 1 was instituted in Victoria by Past Chief Patriarch J. W. Miller, of Oregon, on January 18, 1871, with seven charter members. It was attached in the first place to the Grand Encampment of California, and subsequently transferred to the jurisdiction of Oregon and then to that of Washington until the organization of the Grand Encampment.

FRED DAVEY

ment in British Columbia. This grand encampment was instituted at Victoria by District Deputy Grand Sire W. McColl, or New Westminster, on March 28, 1891, consisting of five encampments.

The first Rebekah Lodge of British Columbia was instituted in Victoria by Grand Master Joshua Davies, on December 5, 1887, with the name of Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1. The Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia was instituted at New Westminster on June 9, 1908.

The military branch is the Patriarchs Militant. This branch has been in existence in British Columbia since September 22, 1882. There are cantons at Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Nelson, Rossland, Fernie and Ladysmith, making a regiment in British Columbia.

The Grand Secretary.—Victoria is proud particularly of the Grand Secretary, Fred Davey, pioneer of the order. Brother Davey was secretary of the Odd Fellows Lodge (Manchester Unity) in England for eight years and joined Victoria Lodge No. 1 at Victoria by initiation on November 22, 1875. He joined the Vancouver Encampment No. 1 in Victoria on January 17, 1888. He was a charter member of Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1, of Victoria, which was instituted on December 15, 1887. He is an honorary member of Victoria Canton No. 2, Patriarchs Militant. He has been recording and financial secretary of Victoria Lodge No. 1, since January 1, 1877. He entered the Grand Lodge and was elected Grand Secretary on February 16, 1884. At that time there were only six lodges in this jurisdiction and 500 members. He was elected Grand Sire at the Grand Encampment on June 11, 1907. He has been secretary of the Odd Fellows' Union of the City of Victoria since 1881, and financial secretary of the Victoria Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F., since 1881. He was Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge for the jurisdiction of British Columbia during the years 1905 and 1906, and received the grand decoration of mastery at the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge held in Seattle in 1909. He joined the Boscawen Lodge, A. F. & A. M., Chacewater, Cornwall, England, in 1884, and was transferred to Victoria Columbia Lodge No. 1, Victoria, in 1876.

Comrades of The Great War.—Members of the Comrades of the Great War states the secretary, H. E. Sutherland, are requested to attend the memorial service in celebration of the anniversary of the 2nd Battle of Ypres at St. John's Church, to-morrow evening at 7.30. Permission to wear uniform has been granted by the G. O. C. M. D. No. 11. Comrades are requested to meet at the club at 6.45.

How Sallow Skin Can Be Changed to Rosy Complexion

Every woman with pale cheeks and poor complexion needs medicine—needs a potent tonic to regulate her system.

To tone up the stomach—to insure good digestion—to give new life and vitality to the whole system—where is there a remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

Dr. Hamilton's Pills enable you to eat what you like—their correct constipation—make nourishing blood—instill force and vim into a run-down system.

If nervous and can't sleep your remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they search out the cause of your condition and you rise in the morning refreshed, strong, vigorous, ready for the day's work.

Dr. Hamilton asks every weak and debilitated person to use his mandate and Bittern Pills. They make old folks feel young, and weak folks feel strong. Their effects upon insomnia and languor are marvellous. Hundreds declare they soothe and quiet the nerves so that a good night's rest always follows their use.

To look well, to feel well, to keep well, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, cleansing, strengthening—good for the young or old. Sold by all dealers in 25c boxes.

TO HAVE CHARGE OF RIGGING CONTRACT

Frank W. Haviseide to Supervise Rigging of Foundation-Built Vessels

The contract for the rigging of the twenty vessels being turned out here by the Foundation Company has been awarded to Haviseide, Withers & Davis, ship riggers, of San Francisco, and Frank W. Haviseide, rigging superintendent, will be in charge of the rigging of the French vessels.

In putting through this contract local riggers will be employed through the Foundation labor organization, according to a statement made this morning by Mr. Haviseide. Mr. Haviseide is enthusiastic about the plant and organization at Ogden Point and he predicts some fast work when the rigging contract is gotten under way. He hopes to get the work started on the vessels already delivered at the outfitting plant next week.

The Haviseide organization held the contract for the rigging of the twenty auxiliary schooners built for the French Government at Portland. Frank Haviseide was in charge of this rigging contract and a number of records were established.

Haviseide, Withers & Davis recently turned out a three-mast schooner rigged vessel at San Francisco, one of the first vessels of this particular rig to be completed in many years.

PREPARING FOR TEA EXPORT TO COAST

Three Japanese Steamship Lines Negotiating With Exporters

According to word brought by the liner Fushimi Maru the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha and the Toyo Kisen Kaisha are negotiating with the Japanese tea exporters with regard to the freight for the shipment of tea from Japan to North America this year, but the indications are that a considerable time will elapse before a decision is reached. Representatives of the shipping companies are to inspect the tea situation in the Shidzuoka districts with a view to determining the amount of the probable tea shipments this season. Last year the quantity of expected shipments was 55,000 tons, but this year it is expected that no particular quantity will be specified for reasons of business secrets.

MEDIATOR CALLED IN TO SETTLE DISPUTE AT TACOMA PLANT

Tacoma, April 26.—The threatened strike at the Rodd shipyard was averted by the intervention of a mediator called in by the Metal Trades Committee with managers of the yard was held, which decided to call in Henry McBride, of Seattle, federal mediator, in a second conference Monday to adjust minor grievances.

Women as Brave As the Men

THEIR STRUGGLE SHOWS A REMARKABLE SPIRIT.

Talk of the bravery of men, where can you find a finer spirit than among the half-rick women, who are fighting and struggling to do their duty against the terrible odds of ill-health, and who will not give up.

One woman in every three is struggling against weakness. Most of them are not exactly sick, but, oh, how miserable!

The burden and misery of it all has its foundation in the blood which is thin and watery. The red cells are too few. The very stream of life is reduced in vitality. Weakness and inevitable ill-health are the certain result.

Every ailing or weak woman can quickly regain her health in this very simple way. By filling the system with the nutrition that comes from rich red blood, a quick change for the better will result. To accomplish this, take two chocolate-coated Ferrerozine Tablets after each meal. You'll feel better immediately for the simple reason that Ferrerozine renews the blood. It gives you vim, vigor, endurance, restores a tired, worn-out system very quickly.

You'll feel like new all over once you get Ferrerozine working through your blood. It puts color into faded cheeks, brightens the eyes, quickens the step, brings back that wonderful feeling of youth.

One of the finest things Ferrerozine does is to make you eat lots and digest it as well. With keen appetite, sound sleep, strong nerves and lots of nourishing blood you're bound to regain robust health. Any sickly girl or ailing woman that Ferrerozine won't make well must be incurable. There is a secret power in Ferrerozine and it is worth a trial at all events. Fifty cents per box, six for $2.50. At all dealers in medicine, or by mail from The Catarthosine Co., Kingston, Ont., Victoria, B.C.

RESTORER RETURNS FROM MIDWAY ISLE

Established Record in Repairing Break in Mid-Pacific Submarine Cable

SHIP WAS BOARDED BY NEPTUNE AND STAFF

After some record-breaking work in cable repairing at Midway Island the Commercial Cable Company's cableship Restorer, Capt. Basil Combe, has returned to Bremerton. The Restorer left Victoria about two months ago for the mid-Pacific isle and within three weeks of her departure from this port she had steamed 8,450 nautical miles and the break in the cable had been repaired.

Capt. A. McDonald, second officer of the Restorer, who is spending a few days in the city, relates some interesting incidents of the voyage—the first long-distance cruise that the big cableship has made in several years. The voyage was a most successful one, the Restorer burning oil fuel, the vessel having been equipped as an oil-burner about a year ago by Yarrows, Ltd., at Esquimalt.

Good Steaming.

Under these new conditions the Restorer acquitted herself admirably and Capt. Basil Combe and his officers are high in their praise of the oil-burning equipment. On four boiler trials the Restorer steamed 3,453 miles from Cape Flattery to Midway at an average speed of fifteen knots, and on the return trip, with only three boilers in commission, she averaged thirteen knots.

The break in the Midway-Guam cable was discovered at the entrance to Seward Roads immediately outside the channel through the coral reef which completely surrounds Midway Island. The fracture had been caused by chafing on the coral reefs. The break was easily located and within a few hours following arrival the necessary repairs had been completed. As there is very little water inside the coral reef the Restorer, anchored outside Seward Roads, was exposed to the heave of the mighty Pacific.

Shortly after arrival a heavy southerly gale broke suddenly and the cable ship was forced to head out to sea. The Restorer, however, was not daunted and ran at full speed into the teeth of the racing ship during the night. The gale swooped over the ship so suddenly that the anchor was cut away and abandoned.

On her recent voyage the Restorer carried seventy recruits who are in training on the cable ship for the United States merchant service. The majority of these cadets experienced their first long sea voyage. On the trip to Honolulu, where the Restorer touched at a large number of the cadets were down with mal-de-mer, but in all other respects they had a most instructive and enjoyable voyage.

Hailed by Neptune

When the Restorer was steaming north from Midway she was hailed and boarded by King Neptune and his retinue, and the youthful sailors aboard were subjected to the customary equatorial ordeal, to which they submitted with the best of grace. Set back by the lack of shipping in the equatorial zone, King Neptune wandered further afield, and traveling in more northerly latitudes he sighted the Restorer and hailed her from the port bow.

After King Neptune, represented by Montgomery, the ship's "chips," had paid his respects to Capt. Combe, and had been treated to a goodly repast of "grog," the time-honored ceremonies were inaugurated.

In anticipation of Neptune's arrival a huge tank had been erected on deck, a task that caused considerable wonderment among the cadets. They were thrown into a state of consternation when Neptune, waving his trident, and accompanied by his staff, came over the side. The first victim objected strenuously to the treatment accorded him by the barber armed with a gigantic wooden razor, but a little pressure resulted in complete submission. The shaving incident over, the victim was unclothed and hurled into the tank and ducked again and again by the horned deities. When it was realized that Neptune and his merry retainers were having a joke at their expense, the marine recruits cheerfully submitted to the ordeal.

WINNIEG SUCCESSFULLY LAUNCHED HERE TO-DAY

Fourth Vessel of Foundation Contract Went Aloft From Point Ellice at Noon; Mrs. W. J. Bowser Performed Sponsorial Duties

Another successful launching was staged at the Foundation Company's yards here to-day when the wooden steamship Winnipeg was sent aloft at the noon hour from the Point Ellice plant. The Winnipeg is the fourth of twenty 3,000-ton full-powered wooden steamships building here by the Foundation Company to the order of the French Government, three other vessels, the Strasbourg, Metz and Mulhouse having been launched within the past two months.

As is customary on these occasions, the Foundation band added to the gaiety of the proceedings and the Winnipeg responded to the enthusiasm of the assembled multitude by getting away right on schedule and gracefully sliding into her natural element. The launching arrangements were carried out with clockwork precision.

On Schedule. The Winnipeg started down the grade at twelve o'clock, having been duly christened by Mrs. W. J. Bowser, wife of the Leader of the Opposition in the Provincial House. The launching proper was under the personal supervision of Works Manager Paul B. Thompson, and at the first creak of timbers as the great hull settled down on the greased ways and was simultaneously released the sponsor smashed the beribboned bottle of champagne across the ship's bows.

The band struck up the Marseillaise and to the plaudits of the huge crowd, which was greatly augmented by the large force of employees just knocking off work, the Winnipeg with gradually gathering speed slipped away and cut the water neatly.

The "bander" checking system, which has proved very successful at previous Foundation launchings, worked perfectly and the ponderous hull was brought up after she had glided but a short distance from the bottom of the ways.

Three cheers for the Winnipeg were called for from the launching platform and promptly given as the ship surged out into the stream.

Gaily Beflagged.

As the vessel went astern the Union Jack and Tricolor floated proudly in the breeze from her forecastle head. On the launching platform, which was gaily and profusely decorated with flags of the allied nations, the customary post-launching ceremony was performed when Edward E. Jenkins, assistant Pacific Coast manager, presented Mrs. Bowser with a handsome gold vanity case, on the face of which was inscribed "From the Winnipeg to her sponsor, April 26, 1916."

W. J. Bowser, K.C., M.P.P., accompanied his wife on the launching party and a large number of prominent citizens were also present.

The following were invited to witness the ceremony by the sponsor: Lady McBride, Mr. Justice Eberts, Mrs. Eberts and Miss Eberts, Mr. Justice Martin, Mr. Martin and Capt. Martin, Major-General Leckie, Col. W. F. Foster, Mr. Foster, Miss Irving, Hon. E. G. and Mrs. Prior, Dr. and Mrs. Adam, A. R. Heiler, Mr. and Mrs. David Kerr and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones and the Misses Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sutherland and Lieut. Victor Sutherland, Capt. and Mrs. Troup, Mrs. Bodwell and the Misses Bodwell, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas.

To Ogden Point.

The Winnipeg was subsequently towed out of the harbor to Ogden Point and moored alongside for machinery installation.

Bayly Hipkins, vice-president and Pacific Coast manager of the Foundation Company, was unavoidably absent from to-day's launching as his business interests required his presence elsewhere. After spending some days in the city Mr. Hipkins left yesterday afternoon for Seattle.

The time used in Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures in bold type are distinguished High Water from Low Water. Where blank occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning Low Water.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

FRAMING RECORD ESTABLISHED AT POINT HOPE YARD

A new framing record is credited to the gang engaged on Hull 213 at the Point Hope yard of the Foundation Company. In five days and two hours, sixty-six frames were put together and erected, which works out at an average of 1.57 frames to the working hour. The best showing was made on Monday last when the framing gang under Fred Mason made fifteen frames and erected sixteen of a set of two frames to the hour and accomplished under normal working conditions.

RHEUMATISM CAN BE CURED

The Trouble is Rooted in the Blood and Can Only be Cured Through the Blood.

In the days of our grandfathers rheumatism was thought to be the unavoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Almost every elderly person had rheumatism, as well as many young people. Medical science did not understand the trouble—did not know that it was rooted in the blood. It was thought that rheumatism was the effect of exposure to cold and damp, and it was treated with liniments and hot applications, which sometimes gave temporary relief, but did not cure the trouble. In those days there were thousands of rheumatic cripples. Now medical science understands that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and that with good, rich, red blood any man or woman of any age can defy the trouble. Rheumatism can be cured by killing the poison in the blood which causes it. For this purpose the blood making, blood enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is becoming every year more widely known, and it is the more general use of these pills that has robbed rheumatism of its terrors. In proof of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to cure this trouble, Miss Jennie Stockdale, Hall's Bridge, Ont., says: "Two winters ago I was taken with a bad attack of rheumatism, and was in bed for over two months, most of which time I could not sleep or enjoy rest day or night. The trouble also affected my nerves, which were very bad. I tried several remedies, but did not get any help from them, and then, acting on the advice of a friend I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon felt that the pills were helping me, and after taking eight boxes I am glad to say I was able to go about again as usual, and am now enjoying the best of health with plenty of good, rich blood, which makes me feel like an altogether different person. I earnestly advise those suffering from rheumatism, nervousness and kindred troubles not to delay using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as, like myself, I am sure they will find a cure through their use."

MADAME CLARA BUTT ON MODERN OPERA

Famous British Singer Has Interesting Comment on Situation

Mme. Clara Butt, recently interviewed at her Hampstead home, gave some interesting views on the probability of English opera coming into its own very soon. Of the art of singing she said: "It is no big a thing that it's difficult to speak of it as a whole. Singing is an intelligence. If only all would-be singers would realize that, how it would help them.
After all, a little knowledge, no matter whether musical or otherwise, is a dangerous thing, and I maintain that every person with a voice should have it properly trained so as to make the best and most of it."
"I strongly advise any girl to take up operatic singing instead of concert singing, it must be borne in mind that there is no place on the concert platform for an ordinary voice. Genius is going to be far more appreciated in the future and the musical colleges and academies all over England are paying the way for what I hope will be a musical renaissance."
She also said that she liked to sing in English, as lending itself to music equally with German, Italian or French, but that more attention should be paid to the study of diction, a most important feature of singing, that is not taken sufficiently into account in England at present.

ORGAN RECITAL

At the Metropolitan Methodist Church on Sunday evening next at 7 o'clock the following programme of music will be played by the organist, Edward Parsons:

1. Overture to "Samson" Handel
- (a) Andante Pomposo.
- (b) Allegro.
- (c) Minuet.
2. Impressions du Soir Goss-Custard
3. Toccata in E minor Cooke
4. Elegy in E minor Massenet

This will be the last half-hour recital for the present season as they will be discontinued during the summer months. The organist hopes to resume them on the first Sunday in October, and takes this opportunity of thanking those friends who have attended these recitals so regularly and have expressed their appreciation of them.

THEORY EXAMINATIONS.

The theory examinations of the Associated Board of the Royal Academy and Royal College of Music, London, England, will be held at Madame Kate

Women's Club Votes.—The value of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra and the work it is doing under the direction of Mr. Henry Green has received very tangible recognition from the Vancouver Women's Musical Club.
At the annual meeting, which was held yesterday in the Hotel Vancouver, it was decided to vote the sum of $100 to the orchestra, $50 to be paid forthwith and the other $50 to be paid next fall when the second symphony season will commence.

Madame Kate Webb has awarded a year's singing scholarship to her pupil, Master Jack Puntin.
Ciccolini has sung five different roles in this, his first season with the Chicago Opera Company, and has been a marked success in all of them.

CARUSO CELEBRATES TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR

Of His Career as an Artist; Gala Event at Metropolitan Opera House

New York, April 25.—The Outstanding event of last month was the gala commemoration of Enrico Caruso's twenty-fifth year as a musical artist.
The Metropolitan Opera House stage was the scene, and it was a fitting tribute for the most popular tenor this country has ever known and one who has served longer than any of his predecessors. They have been popular singers in the past, the de Reszke Brothers, for instance, but none has done more valiant service than the Italian who stands head and shoulders above his artistic competitors, even now, ten years after the wise men of the press began to fear that he had lost the power of vocal charm.

The programme marking this silver jubilee included a variety of artistic events, but the most interesting, the most affecting and the most heartily applauded was the speech of the recipient of this honor himself when he stepped to the front of the platform to receive the tokens, oratorical and practical.

"My heart is beating so hard with the emotion that I feel," he began, his voice trembling, "that I am afraid
I cannot even put a few words together. And indeed it so appeared, but he pluckily continued: "I can only thank you and beg you to accept my sincerest and heartfelt gratitude for all the many kindnesses which you have showered upon me. I assure you that I will never forget this occasion and ever cherish in my heart of hearts affection for my dear American friends."

Many were the tokens bestowed. The Metropolitan led with gold medals, the chorus added a silver loving cup,
the orchestra a doral vase, the administrative staff an illustrated parchment with a bird's eye view of his own Naples, a gold medal from the working staff, and a diamond watch from his fellow artists, and from others equally valuable and appropriate gifts.
The stage being banked with them,
Otto Kahn, chairman of the executive committee, made the introductory speech, and the tremendous audience applauded everything and everybody, but most of all Caruso himself. The musical programme included "L'Amore dei Re." It is seldom that so popular a demonstration is given an artist, and with such evident sincerity. William J. Guard, the historian of the Metropolitan's press department, also made an interesting contribution to the event, but unhappily it did not figure as conspicuously among the tokens as it should. This was a resume of Caruso's association with the Metropolitan, and glowingly recounted the rise to his present artistic eminence of the popular tenor who has done much to assist others to success, secure in the knowledge that his own reputation was safe from assault, from whatever source it might come.

Mrs. F. C. Saunders was elected president of the Vancouver Ladies Musical Club at the annual meeting held on Thursday afternoon, in succession to Mrs. Percy Shalloo, the retiring president.

The $35,000 pipe organ in the Denver municipal auditorium is one of the most expensive in the country. Its largest pipe weighs half a tone and its smallest pipe weighs half an ounce. It can be made to produce a mighty volume of sound or tone low enough to accompany a single voice.

It isn't too much to ask, is it, that each member of the congregation possess himself or herself with a hymn-book containing the music. Have the tunes as well as the words.

WHAT SHOULD BE DURATION OF THE MUSICAL RECITAL

A man interested in matters musical makes the statement that "One hour should be made the accepted duration of a recital." Others say an hour and a half is too long. Be that as it may, it is quite certain that the protracted recital that one often attended in the past is no longer in favor. Long speeches, long sermons, long articles and long recitals are being given the cold shoulder.

The difficulty in cutting down the programme to the desired limit is often intensified because each child's parents see nothing else on the programme but their own talented boy or girl. Again, a pianist or violinist may occasionally become so taken up with his or her own ability that no thought is given to what the audience can stand without getting restless and bored.

Some of the American papers are paying a compliment to Olga Samaroff for cancelling one of two sonatas from a recent programme. "Not that anyone would willingly forego a beautiful piano poem like Schumann's G Minor Sonata," reads one of the comments,
"but that an over-lengthy recital is, as the pianist remarked, 'a crime.' A concert artist considers the likes and dislikes of the public in the numbers he selects for his programme. Why should he not consider the public's sympathy in the matter of duration of his recital? If the public were asked for an expression of opinion, it is about as sure as sunrise that the unanimous reply would be: 'Not too long' or 'Short and sweet.' Just as too heavy meals are not good for digestion, so the long recitals are apt to defeat the purpose for which they are given."

MEN AND WOMEN AND THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

(Contributed.)

"Although I thoroughly enjoy the army," reads an extract from a soldier's letter just published, "I am anxious to get back at my books for reasons that I am going to write you in detail a little later. For the present, let me say that the months I have spent in the army with men have proved to be the great eye-opener of my life. They have shown me MEN—not students, not church people —but MEN—the streets-of everywhere. My whole view of religious work is undergoing a complete change and the challenge of the thing is growing upon me in an overwhelming manner. I want to spend (if I may) the months until September, studying to the exclusion of everything else—what I believe to be the fulcrum upon which the whole undertaking of presenting Christ to the people of America (and through them of the world) must rest
—the Sunday school."

"A tribute has often been paid to the contribution to the splendid morale exhibited by the English-speaking armies—soldiers who constitute the finest and cleanest and most irresistible element—wrought through the influence of religious education and moral training acquired in childhood and youth in 'the Sunday school of yesterday.' It is a natural fruitage, say some. For this cause came the Sunday school into the world. Then, we add, it remains for the Sunday school of to-day to give to the world's present generation of youth a moral and religious equipment adequate for the supreme test of the hour—the reconstruction era."

Never has the Sunday school faced a more desperate challenge "to get straight down to business." For the purpose of the Sunday school (to quote one recognized authority) "is not mental but moral, not intellectuality but Christianity, not the imparting of knowledge but the building of character, after the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ."

Dr. John B. Mott, in declaring before a gathering of men recently that he could find no limit to the possibilities of the object that you and I have steadily before us, to make boys complete in Jesus Christ. Surely you gentlemen find no limit to that object, do you? Surely you find no suggestion in that that does not afford the largest conceivable outlet for any experience or native abilities or acquired abilities that any of us, as leaders, may possess, who are going to touch
this problem."

It is not unreasonable, then, to say that with such an aim and end, the work of the Sunday school might seem to have a supreme claim upon the people to whom the world naturally looks for leadership. And leadership is the greatest problem that confronts the church and the Sunday school today as it seeks to meet the needs of the boys and girls of to-day.

A Call to Men.
It is one of man's largest opportunities for definite, worth-while and far-reaching service. Men of vision have seen this: for a list of Sunday School workers would include many a famous statesman, men prominent in professional life, leaders in industry and commerce, influential men in the business world, as well as that countless host of those who would account themselves least but shall be called great. Some, of late years especially, have come to realize this and the essential value of the work. For illustration, it will be at least instructive to quote the admission of Mr. Bernard Shaw, who recently dropped satire, irony and irreverence long enough to say: "I am ready to admit that, after contemplating the world of human nature for nearly sixty years, I see no way out of the world's misery but the way which would have been found by Christ's will if he had undertaken the work of a modern practical statesman."

A movement, and a great social, educational and missionary force that seeks to cultivate this "mind of Christ" and produce the most efficient and useful type of citizen cannot lightly be passed over or regarded as an object deserving anything but the largest possible measure of interest and support.

Men, and men only, can solve some of the most pressing problems of the modern Sunday school. They can men two strategically important departments of its work (offices at present more often vacant than occupied):

One, to the advantage of the whole school, its executive and administrative functions; the other, not less to the benefit of the entire school but to one vital part of it in particular, the teaching and training of boys. Men of sympathy and experience of fellowship, human and divine, are needed in every Sunday school for leading groups of boys (especially in the teen age);
men of business knowledge and consecrated "business sense" are needed for the "business end" of the Sunday school.

Leadership, it has been well said, is the key that unlocks the door of the teen-age for the church—and that clothes it too. Men are leaders of boys.
And boys can't help following them.
The question is, Whither? Where do men lead them to?

May it, therefore, be not untrue to state that where there has been failure in the Sunday school it is largely man's responsibility. A leading church official once said: "We have lost a generation of men from our church." How do you account for it?
he was asked. "Years ago we let the boys that are now men slip out of our Sunday schools," came the reply.
"How shall we keep our older boys?"
was a question raised at a conference.
"Build a wall of men between them and the door" was the answer.

The Service of Women.
The call of the Sunday School, in so far as it has been the call of the child, has always found a ready and willing response in the hearts and lives of faithful women. "She hath done what she could" is written of thousands of women in imperishable characters in the records of the very existence of many a Sunday School from the inception of the movement, and bears witness to the persistent demands of the present day and hour for a bigger and wider support, an extension of scope and effort and the lifting of the whole movement and membership to a higher plane of vision and the attainment of more efficient standards for workers and work.

The call to inspire and build for eternity in an era of reconstruction will not receive less than the call to soothe and save against the onslaught of forces of destruction. The call to win men and women and nations, and war against evils and all forms of social selfishness, for the kingdom of God and Jesus Christ, though it involve self-denial, self-renunciation and utter self-devotion, when it is fully recognized and rightly understood, will not be granted less than was offered in response to the call of King and country and wronged humanity in August, 1914.

In this year of "Forward Movements" and thus early in the era of reconstruction, that church is wise which sets itself at once to strengthen the work of the Sunday school; and the individual, man and woman, young and old, who would contribute most to the needs of the world and our generation will find the greatest and most satisfying fulfillment of that desire who responds to the call of the Sunday school—and responds quickly, generously and wholeheartedly.

Encourage your sons and daughters to join the church choir.

The most ancient bells yet discovered are not cast like those rich, mellow-toned bells of Holland and Belgium.
They consist of a plate of metal bent round and riveted where the edges meet.

It is a satisfaction for the organist to know that business men, who come to church with their minds filled with thoughts of competition, dishonest employees, notes coming due, customers' complaints, and so on, are transported by the organ music to a world of comfort, relaxation and forgetfulness of down-town troubles. Until this is done the business man's mind is not in a position to worship. The organist does do good.

NASH TRUCK GIVES PROOF OF STRENGTH

Interesting Demonstration by J. E. Eves, Sales Manager of Shell Garage

J. E. Eves, sales manager of the Shell Garage Company, local agents for Nash trucks and passenger cars, took a Times representative for a demonstration ride on one of the two-ton machines yesterday afternoon during which some interesting work was carried out. Starting from The Times building Mr. Eves first sped along the city streets and ended up by driving the powerful machine through a vacant lot adjoining the Shell Garage.

With amazing ease the truck went over heaps and through stump holes. Mr. Eves put the machine through most difficult tests on straight driving, turning and backing, making it a point to do it where the greatest obstacles could be found, and the Nash clearly demonstrated its ability at all times to operate as easily as if it were on a paved roadway, and this despite the fact that at times the machine was listed to an angle of about forty-five degrees.

The two-ton Nash allows for an over-load of seventy-five per cent and its speed is sixteen miles an hour. Auxiliary springs are fitted over the axles to engage the over-load and the demonstrator was fitted with Goodyear demountable tires, though any standard tire may be used. The engine is under a hood right on the footboard in plain view from the top of the base to the top of the cylinders so that a man can work at it if necessary just as though it were standing on the floor of the garage.

The Nash trucks account for their wonderful strength by reason of the four-wheel drive and the mechanism is simple and extremely interesting even to the novice. In addition to its own load, attachments are provided for hauling a trailer or for pulling back.

W. Nichols is manager of the Shell Garage and W. F. Pitzer is foreman of the Service Department.

CLEARING TROPICAL JUNGLE FOR RUBBER

Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company Have Large Sumatra Plantation

On the Dutch island of Sumatra the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Akron, O., is completing the clearing and planting of an extensive tropical jungle of some 20,000 acres, utilizing the labor of 10,000 coolies and a large staff of overseers, planters and engineers. Between 5,000 and 10,000 acres have already been planted with rubber trees that are yielding rubber for Goodyear products.

William A. Vaughan, general manager of the Sumatra plantation, who has just returned from a conference with Goodyear officials at Akron, in speaking of his company's accomplishment in the Far East, says: "The jungles we have cleared are the densest in the world and many of the trees are enormous. In our work we clear every foot of ground. After removing the underbrush and tree trunks, we pull up the stumps with special stump pullers and tractors. No explosives are used."

Keep Laborers Contented.
"We plant about 100 trees to the acre and keep the entire tract absolutely free of weeds. We accord our laborers the very best of treatment and have provided comfortable quarters for them. Labor troubles are practically unknown. Twenty cents a day and a reasonable shelter keep the coolies contented. High prices have no terrors in a land where the sun grows your dinner on a bush, furnishes plenty of free heat the entire year and is friendly in determining the style and amount of dress."

"We have a plantation hospital with 400 beds and give the very best medical treatment to our people. Our plantation is seventy-five miles from the city of Medan, our shipping port, so that it is practically independent of the outside world in its various appointments. At times fever epidemics are troublesome, but we find that with the clearing, draining of the land, the improvement of sanitary conditions, these are becoming less frequent."

How Land is Cleared.
"Our plantation is divided into six divisions, each approximately 3,000 acres and having its own main road. Of the 20,000 acres in the plantation nearly 3,000 acres are reserved for the natives, who live together in commodious 'lines' or colonies."

"As the axemen fell the trees, Chinese plank sawyers follow them and save all the lumber possible for use in constructing these coolie quarters. One thousand three hundred coolies can fell about 3,000 acres in two months."

"However, felling the thicket and clearing away the underbrush, preparatory to planting the young trees, is but a small part of the work. For good roads must be built, that all parts of the plantation may be reached easily and quickly. We are constantly building highways and have already built 125 miles of substantial road."

"After the land has been cleared the big steam tractor is put to work plowing. This is done to a depth of about twenty inches. Twenty acres can be plowed in a day with a tractor. Two hundred and fifty coolies can plow three acres in the same time."

Springs Need Attention.—In inspecting the springs attention should be given to the spring hangers and other subsidiary parts. Lost motion, usually side play, often develops in the spring hangers and shackles. Not infrequently the bolts which pass through the spring eye will be worn nearly through in the course of time.

ALL MATERIAL IS THOROUGHLY TESTED

Republic Motor Truck Company Checks Carefully Everything Used in Construction

In the earlier stages of motor truck manufacturing it was not an uncommon sight to see huge scrap heaps at the various factories containing many and various parts in an advanced stage of construction. Inspection methods, such as they were in those days, were so inefficient that defective parts were permitted to go from one department to another, only to have the finished parts discarded in the final stage. Such flagrant violations of all manufacturing ethics not only inflated manufacturing costs, but jeopardized the standing of the maker and the reputation of the product.

The manufacture of motor trucks has, however, been thoroughly revolutionized in the past decade. And, happily, nowhere are the changed methods more in evidence than in the system of inspection now in force at the plants of some of the industry's largest producers.

By contrast with the inefficient methods of the earlier days of the truck industry, the system employed at the factories of the Republic Motor Truck Company, Inc., Alma, Mich., of which the Beggs Motor Co. are the local distributors, insures accuracy and saves manufacturing costs by preventing parts that fail to measure up to specifications from passing a single operation.

From the time the engineers' drawings are made the Republic inspection system is in force. Armed with definite specifications from the engineers, inspectors are sent to every source of supply, and nothing is accepted until approved by the Republic inspectors at these sources. Any error in producing raw material, for instance, is corrected before an ounce of that material is accepted. Instead of later, when the material would have been paid for, and time, labor and machine spent upon a part, only to have it discarded because of faults which should have been prevented at the source.

The Republic inspectors next tackle material as soon as it reaches the factories. A portion of each batch of raw steel stock is taken and put in the laboratories, where the engineers' specifications must be met or the shipments turned back. Production requirements are carefully studied, and vast quantities of the steel stock, sufficient to meet all demands for a period of five weeks, are ordered. With so great a supply always on hand, there is plenty of time for careful chemical analysis by the Republic laboratory experts.

By means of a novel stock room arrangement, a green man may instantly select exactly the right grade of steel to meet each manufacturing requirement. The steel bar stock is carefully stored in huge bins, each bin painted a particular color. The ends of each piece of steel also bears the same color, and a chart, hung in a conspicuous place, acts as a guide with unfailing accuracy.

Grease Stops Leaks.—If oil and grease drop out of gear case or differential housing the bolts must be set up more tightly, as it is an expensive job to replace all the gaskets. If tightening the bolts does not stop the leak then use a heavier grease, one which will not thin out so much in hot weather.

Everything For Motor.—"We will soon have almost everything in stock from a buffer to the tail light," said F. G. Woods, Douglas Street accessories dealer to-day. Mr. Woods is rapidly increasing his line of accessories, and finds it necessary to enlarge his accommodation in order to handle the numerous lines he is now carrying.

If he will agree to play fair with Ford Owners;

He can get a complete stock of Genuine Ford Parts.

Nothing has caused Ford Owners more trouble, annoying breakdowns and expense than the use of "spurious" or imitation repair parts.

They are not made up to the Ford standard. They weaken the car.

They often injure other parts of the car.

The owner of a Ford could not be expected to accept repairs made with such inferior parts.

And there is now no need to accept them.

Genuine Ford Parts are on sale everywhere.

They have become a staple line of merchandise stocked by reliable automobile and repair men in every locality.

Nearly 3,000 repair stations in Canada are equipped to replace any part of your Ford promptly with a Genuine Ford Part.

If your repair man will not supply you, there is a garage around the corner displaying the Ford service sign.

That means a garage pledged to fair play with Ford owners.

To stand out for fair service is the surest way for the Ford owner to get it in every garage.

SALE OF WAR CARS

Disposal of Vehicles Used by Government is a Big Problem.

The question of disposing of the surplus Government cars following the cessation of war is one that is troubling the authorities in Europe and America and no definite decision has been reached as to the ultimate disposal of the vehicles. In the Old Country auction sales were held in various districts, but it is believed that no passenger cars are offered at present as they are needed in connection with demobilization of the forces.

The suggestion has been made that eventually a large number of Government vehicles, particularly those of the passenger carrying type, that have not yet been delivered by their manufacturers will be disposed of to a syndicate or syndicate representatives of the agents' branch of the motor industry. The Disposal Board has received several applications from such syndicates, and it is possible that many of the cars will be disposed of through such channels.

WRECK MANY CARS.

The Pacific Motor Car Company makes it a business of wrecking cars and selling the good parts and junking the balance. It is surprising and interesting to learn that this concern is wrecking cars at the rate of two a day.
The result is that automobile parts are obtainable here at a lower price and with less delay than by sending away for them.

OVERLAND HAS NEW PRODUCTION SCHEME

Annual Report on Expansion Calls for 175,000 Cars
in 1919

In his annual report to the stockholders, John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company, announces a new manufacturing plan which calls for a production expansion in Toledo to 175,000 cars during 1919.
This will mean an increase of 35 per cent over the company's best year.

"In proportion to the supply, the demand for cars," Mr. Willys says, "was probably never greater to-day. The outlook for the farm and tractor industries was never brighter."

Mr. Willys' report is an impressive disclosure of the strength and the flexibility of the Willys-Overland plant and organization. The 1918 business was 10 per cent greater than that in 1917, the best previous year in the company's history. While the gross profits for 1918 totaled $1,510,- 645, necessary deductions for reserves for depreciation, replacement of tools, equipment, etc., and obsolete parts and materials, leave a net income for the year of $5,536,254. This showing is considered excellent in view of the radical factory adjustments from a peace to an 80 per cent war basis and an equally radical readjustment after armistice to a peace basis.

All the passenger cars production ceased on November 1, 1918. On the day that the armistice was signed, the company had on hand $75,000,000 of government business, of which 42 per cent was completed. The company had determined to shape its 1918 programme to the winning of the war and a wide variety of government contracts was accepted. In the production of gun carriages alone the Toledo plant reached a daily production greater than the combined gun carriage works in France. By December 31, the company would have been on a 100 per cent war basis.

"By January 2," Mr. Willys reports, "or within less than fifty days after the stop work instructions on war contracts, we were again turning out automobiles and by January 31, were shipping 315 cars daily. At the present time 425 cars are being turned out daily in accordance with a schedule calling for a steady increase to 1,000 cars daily in August."

In September, 1918, the Willys Overland Company acquired control of the Moline Plow Company. The output there in agricultural implements and farm tractors will be doubled and in 1920 doubled again. The purchase was made," Mr. Willys writes, "because the Willys Overland Company anticipated, regardless of war or peace, an unlimited demand for tractors in an age of power farming."

LOSS OF COMPRESSION IS EASILY REMEDIED

Inland Piston Ring is Wonder, Says Canadian Fairbanks
Morse Manager

The Inland Piston Ring is a marvel of simplicity and efficiency. It is made of only one piece, yet it has all of the virtues of both eccentric and concentric construction, and none of their disadvantages, says G. Y. Simpson, local manager for the Canadian Fairbanks Morse Company, who reports that the sales of this handy life-renewing and power-giving invention have been very heavy in Victoria. No engine can lose compression when equipped with this ring, he says.

"It is made of the highest grade cast iron, which has the elasticity and spring that will always insure the proper position against the cylinder walls, and yet is soft enough to take the wear instead of allowing the cylinder walls to take it. Notwithstanding this, the Inland will last longer than the life of the car."

"The Inland is made by cutting a continuous ring spirally, for half its circumference, then heat treating. This fixes the tension of the metal, which holds the overlapping ends tightly against each other, and makes it impossible for the gas to escape between them."

"Being spirally cut, the ring, in expanding, tends to uncoil spirally, thus preserving a perfect circle, and applying equal pressure to the entire inner circumference of the cylinder.
When compressed in the cylinder, the gaps almost close, and when heated, as the ring must be when the engine is running, the ring expands and the gaps completely close. For gas to escape it must enter one of the tightly closed gaps, travel half the inner circumfer-ence of the ring, and escape through the other tightly closed gap on the opposite side of the ring—a manifest impossibility."

TREMENDOUS SALE OF AUTOS IS REPORTED

R. E. McMorran Says Cars for Which He is Agent Are Going Fast

R. E. McMorran, local agent for the Hupmobile and Briscoe passenger cars, has just returned from a trip to Vancouver on business connected with the handling of these cars.
Mr. McMorran found that there was a tremendous sale of these machines on the Mainland. "So far this year Vancouver agency has sold no less than 124 Briscoe cars. They are as thick as Fords in Vancouver," he remarked. Although Mr. McMorran has only recently secured the agency of the Briscoe and the Hupmobile, his sale sheets already show very satisfactory results.

Asked as to the business done in Hupmobile sales, Mr. McMorran replied: "Well, now, you know the reputation enjoyed everywhere by the Hup, so there is no need to give you an assurance that they are selling rapidly."
Mr. McMorran employs two salesmen, both of whom are well known in automobile circles. They are Joe Jolly and W. W. Hoyt, and needless to say both are making good on the job.
The cars they are handling have a number of interesting features and they lay claim to durability and service that no other make of car can excel. Mr. McMorran says that he is willing to match his cars against any others in the market on a long or short distance test.

ARE OF HIGH CLASS

Cartier Brothers Doing Good Business in Used Cars.

"The supply of used cars is fair," said Jack Cartier of Cartier Bros., Johnson Street, this morning. "We are getting in some fairly high class cars these days, and there is a big demand for them," he continued.

Mr. Cartier states that his staff has very nearly all it can do to look after the business offering, and he is quite satisfied with present conditions. "It is our policy to turn out of our shop a used car that is dependable. We investigate and find out the defects of a car of this class, and then carry out the necessary repairs and replace worn out parts so that the car is made as near new as can be reasonably expected. Our experts not only aim to put the car right, but they endeavor to put in such shape that it will stay right," he said.

RENNIESERVICE IS ALWAYS AVAILABLE

Consideration of Patrons is Secret of Success Says
Local Dealer

"Our services are at the disposal of our patrons at all times," said W.
James Rennie to a Times representative, "and that is why 'Rennieservice' is becoming better known in the city
every day."

To illustrate his meaning, Mr. Rennie mentioned the accident which befel the Lakehill bus the other day, when it collided with another car, and was seriously damaged. The car was brought into the garage at 7.30 o'clock at night. The whole staff set to work and continued on the job until 6.30 o'clock the next morning, simply because the Cadillac bus was required to resume her schedule at 7.30. The big machine was on duty and service was resumed to the minute.
"It is only by co-operation that such things can be done and I am sure this is convincing proof that the right kind of spirit prevails in our establishment, and that is why I say that we are always prepared to turn out at any time and go to any place to relieve our patrons in distress," said Mr. Rennie.

Mr. Rennie operates one of the Ford Service Stations and specializes in Ford repairs and the sale of used Ford cars, for which, he says, there is a big demand.

SCENIC TRIP TO MALAHAT GREATLY ENJOYED BY PARTY

W. D. Cartier, Local Used Car Dealer, Takes Times Party for Outing.

LUNCHEON IS SERVED ON ROAD NEAR SUMMIT

Leaves of the trees were still glistening the other morning when W. D. Cartier, the well known dealer, in a big McLaughlin automobile piloted The Times automobile representative and a picnic party of twelve all told through the quiet streets of the city bound for the Malahat, and a day's outing in the woods.

In a few minutes the outskirts of the city were reached and as the car sped along at a good clip the party thoroughly enjoyed the exhilarating ride and breathed deeply of the health-giving air sweet-scented from the verdant fields and orchards through which the road winds its way.

The Colwood golf links, with their wide expanse of green sward was covered with a misty haze of dew which here and there sparkled like diamonds in the sunlight. Glimpses of beautiful stretches seen through the tree branches brought forth expressions of delight and admiration.

Delightful Scenery.

Some of the most delightful scenery presented itself in the Goldstream district, where the road runs alongside the rippling stream and over miniature bridges. It was here that the moss covered rocks abounded with lilies and beautiful ferns, armfuls of which were gathered by the party on the return trip. A short stop was made to admire a tiny waterfall and to ponder over the possibilities underlying the turbulent waters from an angler's point of view.

The gradual ascent was continued and high above the waters of Saanich Inlet the highway ran like a ribbon along the steep mountain side. Numerous stops were made in order to permit of full enjoyment of the beautiful scenes overlooking the sea with the mountains in the distance.

Lunch by Stream.

Upon reaching the Summit the car was turned about and a short descent was made to a point just above a more than five minutes on the varnish. Follow with a washing with clean water because all the mud and grease should be off by this time. Leave it alone to dry. That completes the right hand front part of the chassis and the same work should be done on the three other wheels and adjacent parts.

No Need For Soap.

"Take another clean sponge and with the water still flowing gently, apply to the front of the body and flow all the dust off. There will be no need for soap, because machine oil or road oil is seldom splattered on the body.

"After flowing the water on them, go over the entire body again with the hose and a wet sponge and wash it. Go entirely around the car, including the top of the fenders to the left side, but don't wet the bonnet.

"Now all the dirt has been flowed off and the sponge should be squeezed as dry as possible, and all the water remaining by moldings or crevices should be picked up. Wet a chamois thoroughly and squeeze it as dry as pretty little stream where a fine picnicking spot had been selected on the way up. Lunch baskets were produced and on a level space in a little nook just by the bridge the party enjoyed a good spread. Plenty of good water was obtained from the mountain stream.

Some hours were spent in mountain climbing and roaming about in perfect enjoyment of the scenery and the mountain air, and only too soon the time arrived to pack up for the return home.

Gleefully down the mountain roadway under the skillful driving of Mr. Cartier the party soon arrived back in the city and were handed at their respective homes feeling duly grateful to Mr. Cartier for the extremely pleasant outing they had enjoyed as his guests.

THE CORRECT WAY TO WASH AN AUTO

Dealer Says Careful, Steady Work Required to Preserve Finish

"Washing an automobile is not an intricate procedure, yet few car owners know the correct way to go about it, says one of the local dealers.

"A good finish should last not less than two years if it is properly cared for, he continues.

"The proper washing of an automobile takes time, and it must be done at the right time. To wash a limousine properly requires two hours' careful, steady, hard work. A touring car does not take so long.

"If mud is allowed to dry on the car it is harder to get off, and stains the varnish permanently. Mud should never be permitted to remain on a car overnight. If a chauffeur expects to keep his car looking fine, he must flush off the mud at night, no matter how late it is. The work need not take more than half an hour, and the car can be thoroughly washed and polished in the morning.

"Guard against the too free use of soap, using water with too much force and washing the hood before it is cooled. Most public garages where cars are washed start late in the evening, and if a car has been used in the morning the mud, of course, has had a chance to dry, and the varnish will never look so well again.

Give Driver Credit.
"If your car always looks well, do not think it is luck or a particularly good job of finishing. It would not look well if your driver had not put a good deal of time on his work, which he might have shirked.

"In olden days no coachman would permit a fine carriage to go unwashed, no matter how late he came into the stable at night. You must treat an automobile the same way. Varnish on automobiles is subject to the same troubles, and it ought to look better because it does not have ammonia fumes of the stables to contend with.

Not Hot Water.
"Hot water takes the lustre from varnish. Dissolve a little good automobile soap in a pail of water to make a soapy solution. Have a good soft carriage sponge ready. Start with the right hand front wheel and the under side of the fender and that part of the chassis nearby.

"Let the water flow from the hose in a gentle stream, so that it will carry about six inches from the end of the hose. Go over the wheel, etc., first with water from a hose. Most of the mud will come off. There may be road oil or machine oil, which requires soap. In that case put some of the soapy water on these parts, sopping it on freely. After that has been done, start right in with a hose and a sponge and wash it off.

"Don't let the soapy water stand possible; then wipe off all the water on the body. This will hasten its drying.

"After it is all done, wash the bonnet and the top of the radiator. There may be some splatters of machine oil on the bonnet. If so, use a little soap locally, washing it off soon after it is put on. In any case, don't let the water stand more than five minutes on the bonnet, because it has become heated by the engine. The engine heats the water and damages the lustre. The bonnet should finally be dried with a chamois."

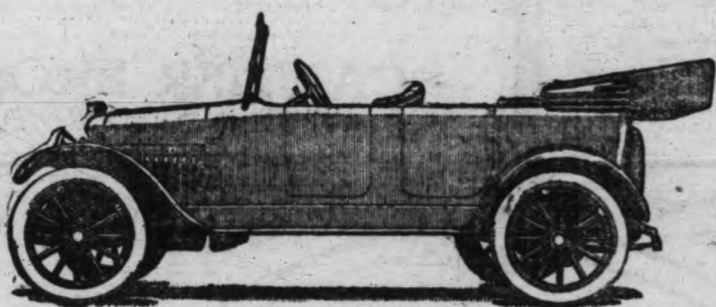

Loose Bearing Test.—To test a wheel for loose bearings jack it up and take hold of top and bottom spokes, pulling and pushing in opposite directions. If no looseness is shown in this way, try lifting the hub to see if there is play in that direction. If any play is shown, the bearings must be taken up.

A Maxwell Grows Better the More You Drive It

THAT is the test of anything good. The more you use a good watch the better it runs. The older your friends grow the better you like them.

And nothing is more pat on a Maxwell than this.

Hardly a day goes by that some Maxwell owner doesn't take his pen in hand and write that he is now passing a mark of 30,000 miles or 20,000, or 50,000.

To purchase such a man's Maxwell from him would be like trying to buy an heirloom from a rich man.

But these Maxwells of today are far better cars than those of yesterday.

For it is the policy of the Maxwell Motor Company to keep on building and building on the original chassis plan set down 5 years ago.

300,000 Maxwells have been built on this program.

1000 refinements have been made since the first car was built.

Each new Maxwell is better than yesterday's.

For doing one thing always results in doing it well.

This Maxwell you see today is so vastly improved in appearance that you may think it a new model.

But it isn't. Just a better looking Maxwell. And a better car.

Now a complete truck

HEREAFTER Ford One-Ton Trucks may be bought complete with bodies and cabs, ready for the road.

The chassis may still be purchased separately.

But, in most cases, the Ford Truck will be sold as a complete Ford job. The body as well as the chassis will be planned to give Ford service.

This radical step in the production of Trucks is being taken to insure the utmost efficiency from the Ford Truck; to give the purchaser Ford value in every part of his truck; to produce better bodies at lower prices.

Two Standard Bodies

The two types of Truck bodies most widely used are the Stake and the Express.

These types will be kept in stock, set up, painted (or in the lead) and ready for prompt delivery.

They have oak floors, sills of seasoned hickory and specially designed forgings and castings.

The construction at every point provides for rough usage such as every truck is bound to get.

Enclosed Cab

The driver gets proper protection in the Enclosed Cab of the Ford Truck.

This cab can be closed up tight, or perfectly ventilated. It has sliding windows and two-way double ventilating windshield.

These complete Ford Trucks are on sale NOW.

WILLARD BATTERY SERVICE PLACED AT DISPOSAL OF AUTOMOBILE USERS

WILLARD BATTERIES GIVE GOOD SERVICE

Important Feature of Motor Car Explained by Victor
Rofe, of Local Firm

"The battery in the present-day motor car is very important as it has to store and give out again the electrical energy as it may be required for the successful operation of the engine, lights, starter horn and so forth," said Victor Rofe, of Jameson, Rofe & Willis, local agents for the famous Willard Batteries.

"This is all done automatically and for this reason the batteries are often neglected simply because as long as they give out sufficient current to operate the car they are considered by the owner to be in good condition.

"As the amount of energy supplied to the battery depends on the conditions of driving, it is very important that every driver should have his battery tested frequently to ascertain its exact condition. The battery may be under-charged or over-charged and by remedying this condition the life of the battery is extended. As the cars of to-day have to stand a great deal more steady driving than those of former years, it is all the more important that an inspection of the battery should be made regularly.

Willard Service Scheme.
The majority of cars are equipped with Willard batteries and this being the case owners should register their batteries and obtain from the Willard Service Station a service card which will enable them to take advantage of the Willard Service scheme, which Jameson, Rofe & Willis will be pleased to explain to anyone at any time.

"Most of the batteries manufactured to-day are constructed with an insulation made of wood and as the electrolyte in which they are working is of sulphuric acid it is not long before the wood has to be renewed, this, of course, depending on the care the battery is given. To overcome this the Willard Company has patented a rubber separator which will last the life-time of the plate."

"This new insulator is so constructed that it is strong and durable as well as being porous, which is most important for the access of electrolyte to the plates during the charge and discharge action. Another feature of advantage in the Willard Battery is that it is perfectly dry until it is put into operation on the car, thus giving the purchaser the advantage of having a battery which has never been charged before and is as new as if it had just come from the factory.

DUNLOP BUSINESS ON ISLAND GROWS

Manager Lewis Gives Interesting Report on Local Conditions

A visit to H. H. Lewis, local manager of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company, Ltd., threw some interesting light on the extent of the business carried on by this large concern. One thing that struck the Times representative was the fact that there seems to be nothing in the manufactured line which contains rubber that is not included in the Dunlop stock list.

Naturally, the major portion of the trade on Vancouver Island is limited to automobile tires, truck tires, tubes, cement patches for tubes and stems, tire tape, rim protectors, tube and tire protectors, repair materials, tire paints, soap stone, windshield rubber, automobile bumpers, automobile mats, radiator and gasometer hose and a thousand and one other handy appliances and equipment.

"Business this year has shown a wonderful improvement over last, and with indications of increased use of motor driven vehicles the outlook for the future is very bright indeed," said Mr. Lewis, who reports that new automobile establishments are cropping up all over Vancouver Island. In his opinion the automobile and the truck will do more toward the development of the island than any other factor.

Good Roads Extend.
"With the extension of good roads there will soon be an entire elimination of these so-called 'out-of-the-way" places and another influence that will bring about a more extensive use of rural routes by the automobile is the constantly growing "crowded" condition of city traffic routes. The outlook is bound to reach out into the country, and considerations of business and pleasure combined will assist largely in increasing out-of-town traffic. This state of affairs naturally means increased business in our line of goods," said Mr. Lewis.

This year's features in the Dunlop line are the new cord tires, the Clipper and the Rib, both in the fabric. Mr. Lewis says it is almost impossible to keep enough cord tires on hand to meet the demand, despite the fact that larger orders are going through to the factories every day. The demand is equally great for automobile and truck tires.

Last summer the Canadian, Australian and English Dunlop tire companies amalgamated, so that the Canadian Dunlop now has access to all the secret formula and method of manufacture used by the English manufacturers which resulted in the Dunlop winning such an enviable reputation in the Old Country.

H. A. Davie, Local Dealer, Finds It Necessary to Increase Orders

The McLaughlin passenger cars have established such a reputation and have become such favorites with the buying public, reports H. A. Davie, local distributor, that it has become necessary to again increase the orders, and this month an extra carload of these automobiles is being sent on to Mr. Davie from the factories.

"We are here for all time to give good service," said Mr. Davie, who is of the opinion that this year will beat all records for the sale of cars.

MUCH TO DO IF MADE-OVER CAR IS TO RUN SMOOTHLY

Careful Examination of Every Part Repays the Trouble Taken

Unless a second hand car has been overhauled by the dealer who is selling it, the purchaser should not forget that there are many things to do before a made-over machine is to run smoothly.

Speaking of this matter, a local dealer remarks that the man who buys a second hand car generally fails to realize after he gets the car that it is not quite ready for a lot of hard work without any attention whatever.

"Must Have Part."
"It should be assumed," he said, "when a second hand car is purchased that the previous owner was none too attentive despite pleadings of the argumentative dealer to the contrary. The other owner felt during most of his ownership of the car just about the way you feel when you get the car—like running it and not fussing with the mechanism. However, the wise possessor of a newly acquired second hand automobile will treat it as though it never had got any attention at all.

"To begin with, drain the oil from all compartments—engine, clutch (if not of the dry running type), transmission and rear axle. You may have been told that fresh lubricant was put in, but that should not stop you. Nor should the comparatively slight expenditure for oils stop you either. Lubrication of a second hand car is a very important matter. Before refilling the cases with fresh oil clean them out thoroughly with kerosene and clean cloths.

"Then go over the whole lubricating system of the car. Examine all grease cups and notice if they need refilling or cleaning or both; clean out all oil holes and squirt clean oil into them. Repack the universal joints, and, in fact, pay such strict attention to the whole lubricating system, including a packing of the steering gear case and steering connections, etc., that you can say positively that the car is properly lubricated.

Tighten Things Up.
"This done, the next step is to make sure that all parts are cleaned and adjusted as well as possible. You might go over the engine first and tighten every nut and bolt you can see; adjust any moving parts, such as fan belt, valve tappets, etc., that may require it. See that outside parts of the engine, such as generator, ignition unit, tire pump and other auxiliaries are tightly mounted in place.

"Clean all terminals with cloth and tighten the cable ends in place. Really the best plan is to give the engine a good cleaning before any work is done, but some prefer to make adjustments and then clean. If you have the misalignment, you caused notices not access to a garage equipped with a compressed air and kerosene sprayer to clean the engine, go carefully over the unit with a cloth moistened with kerosene. Get all the parts clean and dry.

Get a Boot.
"Next attend to the underneath parts of the chassis, such as the clutch, propeller shaft and universals and the axles. It is a good plan to go at the more important units first, taking the braking and steering systems to begin with. Take up as much slack as you can in the steering connections, and take up on the brakes if necessary. Have all these parts pretty well cleaned of dirt, and if the steering joints are hinckered get a boot for each one and prevent further rapid wear.

"If the clutch operation is to your satisfaction and the moving parts of the clutch, control mechanism have been properly cleaned and oiled, do not try further to improve the clutch operation. The universals cannot be treated any better than by giving them a good cleaning and packing with grease.

"The rear axle gears may hum and if this is quite noticeable to the passengers it may be overcome and should be overcome by adjustment. If not familiar with the work do not attempt it. It means a loosening of the collars on each side of the differential and the shifting of this entire unit toward the driving pinion. This reduces the back lash between the driving pinion and the bevel ring gear.

Check Alignment.
"Tighten all springs, tops, body bolts and examine the frame for split rivets, which should be replaced immediately. Adjust the front wheel bearings and check up the front wheel alignment, right away and not after the misalignment has caused notices able tire wear. If the rims seem to be badly rusted in places remove them and repaint.

"Many owners who purchase a second hand car find that after the top is used once it is not better than a covering of blotting paper. Though one should really test the top to see if it leaks, this usually is not done and no thought is given to the top until the car is taken out in the first rain. Waterproofing compounds may be obtained at any good supply store.

"A cleaning out of the gasoline line and a general going over the body will put the used car in about as good condition as possible."

In 1918 more new friends were made—more "Traction" were sold—than in any other year.

Our own men, motoring in the various portions of Canada on their daily duties, had an excellent opportunity to see countless "Traction" in service. They saw them on big city streets, in the quiet of the country, over the even, carefully-graded expanses of highways, and on the hilly going of the mountainous districts; but the important point is that they saw them delivering service of a new order—the kind of service that has no "backfire," no "added entries" of cost to the Tire Bankbook.

With "Traction" now obtainable in Cord, as well as in Regular Construction—with each part of the tire made sturdier than ever before, with countless car owners saying "Traction" Deserve Well Because They Serve Well"—the logical choice for tire equipment is the "Master of the Road."

The "Two Hands" Line consists of: Dunlop Cord—"Traction" and "Ribbed"; Dunlop Regular—"Traction," "Special," "Ribbed," "Clipper," "Plain." Dunlop "Clipper" and Dunlop "Ribbed" (Regular)—both anti-skids—sell at the price of "Plains," a remarkable opportunity.

MORTON PITCHES BEAUTIFUL GAME BUT TEAM-MATES THROW HIM DOWN

Big Right-Hander Struck Out Fourteen Men and Allowed But Four Hits, Yet Lost Game By 6-4; Tyees Have Started to Pound Ball

Seattle 6—Victoria 4.

Harry Morton, the husky right-hander who twirls about as nice a game of ball as ever seen on the local diamond, is certainly ploughing along in the hard-luck rut. To have pitched eighteen innings and allowed but twelve hits and struck out twenty-eight men and yet to lose the double-header has been the experience of the big fellow. Last night he pitched a beautiful game of ball but his support was rotten and he figured on the small end of the score. Still Morton is a game one and believes that he can trim the Seattle gang and will try and work out in the double-header to-day. He is due for a win and the fans are pulling strong for him.

The Tyees have finally started to hit. In the nine innings last night they clouted out eleven safeties, four of them for extra bases. The team has yet to make runs off the hits. Many runners were stranded on the bases through the inability of some one to pick the pill in a pinch. Hinkle, who was the batting hero last night with two doubles and a single, Easterley and Zienke look like the real hitters of the line-up. Some of the others may blossom with warmer weather.

Armstrong was mainly responsible for Morton's defeat. He had three errors chalked against him. He came here highly recommended as a shortstop, but has shown little class as yet. A sizzling liner always gets passed him. Two sailed between his legs last night without him getting a hand on them.

Morton After Record.

It looked as though Morton was after a new strike-out record in the first innings. The three batters who faced him all struck out, and only two foul tips were made off his delivery. In the fifth innings Morton repeated the performance, and in the ninth he whiffed two more batters.

Morton is believed to have hung up a new record in baseball for consecutive strike-outs. In Wednesday's game he broke the Northwestern League record by his brilliant performance of fourteen strike-outs. The record was held by a pitcher named Tomlinson, who pitched twenty-eight strike-outs in eighteen innings. His out-curve is a beauty, and the Seattle players wonder just as much as the fans why the big fellow can not succeed in shoving over a win.

The ball game started well last night. After Morton had retired the first three Sound men, Mensor stepped up to the plate and slugged the first ball Gibson pitched high over the centrefield fence for a home run.

Two Runs Without Hit.

When Seattle came to bat in the second inning, they had a 2-0 lead. The ball, Hillyard walked and French sacrificed him to second. After Hoffman had fouled out, Sherret got a life on Church's error. Bozele laid down a bunt, and Morton made a wild pitch to second trying to head off Sherret. Hillyard scored on the throw, and when Hinkle fumbled the ball Sherret tore home.

Victoria was fighting hard, and in the third innings went into the lead again. With two out, Mullen was hit by a pitched ball. Zienke drove a hot one out to left field, scoring Mullen. Hinkle laced the ball to the fence, driving in Zienke.

In the sixth Seattle added two more runs on a single by French and a home-run by Hoffman. This was "Dutch's" second home run of the series.

The Tyees evened things up in their off the sixth. Hinkle banged out his second two-bagger for the evening, and Corrigan smashed a beautiful single over first, scoring the big centre-fielder.

Given Two Runs.

Seattle were given two runs in the seventh. Gibson was lucky, dropping a Texas Leaguer behind third. Smith was safe when Morton failed to field his hunt pick enough, and immediately stole second. McNamara grounded out and Gibson came home on a passed ball. Smith walked and stole second. Hillyard failed to solve Morton's shoos, French was safe on Armstrong's error, Smith scoring. Smith tried to make the plate on the error, but was an easy out.

Victoria had a chance to get a run in their half of the seventh on hits by Church and Zienke, but Hinkle was a bit anxious, and poked the first ball into Sherret's hands. In the eighth the Tyees again looked strong. Armstrong and Easterley both drove out safe hits. Morton had a chance to win his own game, but struck out. Mensor grounded out. In the ninth the Seattle infield saved Gibson. They picked up three red-hot liners—Morton, Mullen and Hinkle for outs at first.

ATHLETIC UNION HEAD AT CALGARY TO CONFER ON AMATEURS AND PROS.

Regina, April 25.—President Thomas Boyd, of Winnipeg, president of the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada, passed through Regina yesterday en route to Calgary, where he will confer with amateur officials regarding the recent resolution passed by Calgary citizens recommending that Canada adopt the same system as regards amateur athletics which obtains in Great Britain. He will return here on Monday and that afternoon at 3 o'clock amateur union officials will meet here for further discussion. A call has been sent out for all amateur union officials of Saskatchewan to attend.

VICTORIA SWIMMING TEAM AFTER TITLES AT PACIFIC NORTHWEST INDOOR MEET

Mrs. Martin will represent the V. I. A. A. at Portland at the indoor Pacific Northwest Swimming Championship Meet, to be held May 2. Mrs. Martin will compete in the fifty yards free, and the fifty yards breast stroke championship events, and local people who saw her win the P. N. W. fifty yards breast stroke championship by covering the distance in the record time of forty-one seconds are hoping for a repetition of the performance in Portland. Mrs. Martin learnt her swimming in Weston-super-Mare, England. At the age of twelve she won the school's championship of the city, following this the next year by winning the West of England senior championship. For three years in succession Mrs. Martin won the open 100 yards and was the local champion for four years, winning the handsome Norman bowl. In addition to her swimming Mrs. Martin was for seven years a member of the Western Ladies' Water Polo. This team, of which she was captain for some years, held an unbeaten record among English teams for three years and competed against many of the crack European teams. Mrs. Martin has also swum in practically all of the crack European tanks in competition with their best swimmers and polo players. She competed in the last P. N. A. gala

PICKING 'EM OFF THE BAGS

The Tyees have started to hit the ball, which is something. Now for an improvement in the fielding and then for a climb up the ladder.

Hinkle uses a bat almost the size of a telephone pole. When that war club connects it means trouble.

Victoria's fielding average at the end of the season will look like a flu germ unless the boys get a few nets and put a string on their arms.

There was a fluke play in the eighth innings. Sherret popped a ball that fell dead at first base. Mullen grabbed the ball and doubled Bozele at second.

Easterley juggled his batting order last night, and it made a good improvement. Zienke takes the place of Mullen and Easterley up hitting final and strength. Hinkle follows Zienke, and they made a dangerous pair.

Victoria has shown little speed on the bases. No one has got away with a stolen bag.

Easterley arm seems to have gone bad. The Seattle players have pilfered a bunch of bags on him. Still he has a good arm, and the warm weather will pull it around.

Hillyard, one of the hardest, Seattle hitters, is always helpless before Morton. He cannot hit a ball that comes around his shoulders.

Although the Tyees have lost three straight games, the fans are displaying a great deal of patience and turning out in good numbers. It is better to have a team start slowly and finish strong than to go off in a whirl of steam and die before the season is half over.

Some kind fan has offered Harry Morton two hundred bucks if he can hang up a victory to-day. The big fellow deserves a win and here is the best of luck.

"HANK" GOWDY HOME AND READY TO PLAY

New York, April 25.—"Hank" Gowdy, former star catcher of the Boston Braves, who was the first major player to enlist, returned yesterday as sergeant in the 166th Infantry of the Rainbow Division.

Gowdy had received his discharged papers on board and less than two minutes after the liner docked he scampered over the gangplank and announced his intention of going to Boston to sign up for the coming season.

CITY BOXING TITLES FOUGHT FOR FOR FIRST TIME SINCE THE WAR.

Foundation Company Fighters Carry Off the Honors in Bouts at the Crystal Theatre Before Full House

In the first card of championship fights staged in Victoria since the war put the damper on the ring game city titles were won as follows last night:—E. Clarke, heavyweight; J. Andros, 158 lbs.; Charlie Martin, 145 lbs.; Charlie Martin, 135 lbs.; Harold Lineham, 125 lbs.; Charlie Pica, 115 lbs.; W. Pica, 110 lbs.; Alfred Best, Newsboys; Foundation Company, 11 points; V. T. A. A., 9 points.

Honors went to the Foundation Company in the city championship boxing tournament held at the Crystal Theatre under the joint auspices of the Foundation Association and the Vancouver Island Athletic Association last night. Eleven points were scored by the shipbuilders' ring men and nine by the V. I. A. A.

Of the heavyweights, E. Clarke won the title, and also the first round in the 153-lb. class, making the pace so hot for Thompson of the V. I. A. A. that his opponent decided to drop out when he went back to his corner as when the gong sounded for the first rest. Clarke, however, did not enter the semi-final following the decision in his favor in the heavyweight class after three hard rounds with George Corkle.

Charlie Martin, of the Foundation Company, won the 135-lb. class by default, inflicted a lot of punishment on each other before Clarke had his arm held up. The shipbuilder had also entered for the 158-lb. class and strong as ever Thompson of the V. I. A. A. in the first round. The bout with Corkle coming between the final for the 153-lb. class, he was unable to meet Jack Andros, who therefore got the decision by default. Corkle had the advantage of entering the ring fresh for the heavyweight battle and went after his man from the sound of the gong. He had got home a hard drive to the jaw and a couple of body blows before the blond shipbuilder had touched him, but Clarke came back with a lot of stinging body blows.

The V. I. A. A. carried off the 153-lb. championship which went to Andros by default, the 125-lb. championship was won by Harold Lineham, and the 110-lb. championship was won by W. Pica.

The Heavyweight. E. Clarke, the hope of the Foundation Company, and George Corkle, fighting unattached in the heavyweight class, inflicted a lot of punishment on each other before Clarke had his arm held up. The shipbuilder had also entered for the 158-lb. class and strong as ever Thompson of the V. I. A. A. in the first round. The bout with Corkle coming between the final for the 153-lb. class, he was unable to meet Jack Andros, who therefore got the decision by default. Corkle had the advantage of entering the ring fresh for the heavyweight battle and went after his man from the sound of the gong. He had got home a hard drive to the jaw and a couple of body blows before the blond shipbuilder had touched him, but Clarke came back with a lot of stinging body blows.

Newsboys provided some lively bouts. Winner in the Contest Fought Ten Hard Rounds for Trophy.

The newsboys, battling for possession of the Times Cup at the bout at the Crystal Theatre last night, provided some of the most interesting features of the excellent fight card dished up for the first time since the war. The winner in the last contest, fought ten hard rounds before he obtained the cup, and finished fresher than many of the older boxers finished after three. In the final he was matched with Dave Burnett, and the battle was stopped in the third round when Best forced his opponent to a corner and rained in blows with either hand with the force of a young mule. The boys were evenly matched for a couple of rounds, and Burnett has evidently done a lot of practicing. Both had a good knowledge of ring work and Burnett held the young champion to a draw for the first two rounds. Neither was afraid to take a lot of hard knocks, but Best's stinging right and left proved too much for Burnett in the last round, although he was anxious to go the full distance. Previously Burnett had met his brother Hugh Burnett in three speedy rounds.

Matthews best Zarelli in the first round. Zarelli looked like winning in the opening, but Matthews gameness saved him the fight. His opponent forced the fighting for two rounds, and Matthews stood up to take a lot of knocks. He lashed the pace better and ran out winner in the third. In the semi-final Matthews went under to Best in a close contest, and Woods was another victim of Best's in the first round of the tournament.

Martin a Winner. Al McKinnon, the provincial lightweight champion, made his first appearance since returning from overseas in an effort to secure the 145-pound title. McKinnon was up against Charlie Martin, who won the 135-pound class by default, and at the end of the third an even round was called, after which Captain C. Cowan, who judged the championship events, held up Martin's hand. In each round and twice in the third Martin hit so low that he apologized to the ex-soldier.

Although a game-fighter and in better form than he has appeared before, Martin had not the ring generalship of his shorter opponent and was lucky to get a decision. McKinnon had him to the ropes a couple of times in the first, but when the chairs were put in neither man showed signs of much punishment. McKinnon had Martin to the ropes several times again in the second and a lot of the tall fellow's swings spent themselves in the air. He proved a hard boy to hit, but the Scotchman connected with one or two straight lefts, although he was apparently hurt. The boy is keen and a hard-worker, but the club should go easy with him. Too much pitching so early in the season may put a kink in his arm. Morton has had such a tough run of luck that he wants to shake the jinks while he has the fans pulling strongly.

Owing to the fact that there will be no Sunday game a double-header has been arranged for this afternoon. The first game will be called at 3 o'clock and the second will start at 6:15 o'clock.

Jimmy Clark will start the afternoon game. Morton is aced high with the local fans whose hopes are with him for to-night's game. There is not one of the local supporters who is not hoping that Morton will get the luck he deserves and if he pitches a winning game a number of them have decided to mark the occasion by a presentation to Speed. Cigars, cigarettes, hats and a purse are among the presentations that are in store if he holds the Seattle boys down. Al Bonner has been

In the 110-lb. class Billy Pica, of the V. I. A. A., and W. Cloke, of the Foundation Company, were evenly matched, and both boys were hardly able to move at the end of the third when Pica was declared the winner. The V. I. A. A. man evidently meant to finish the fight in the first round. He chased Cloke around two sides of the ring, smashing in blows to the face and body with such speed that the shipbuilder could not stop them. Cloke, however, changed his tactics and stepped to the centre of the ring. After the first onslaught he recovered and made Pica eat more warily. He soon showed Pica that he packed a hard blow and found his opponent's tender spots before the end of the round. The opening pace was so hot that if either of the boys could have landed in one hard hit towards the end of the session he could have finished the fight. They came back strong after the breathing spell, and the exchanges were fairly even. In the last round they went to the floor a couple of times, and Pica left all kinds of openings, but Cloke was too tired to find them.

Lineham's Easy Path. Harold Lineham, of the V. I. A. A., and George Jones, of the Foundation Company, fought for the 125-lb. title, and it looked like proving an even tussle for the laurels until Jones hurt his thumb in the first round and the fight went to the V. I. A. A. man. Both men showed a lot of speed, and were evenly matched in reach and weight. Jones showed cleverness in getting out of the way of Lineham's ripping efforts and shot them in quickly. The spectators lost the chance

Harry Morton will essay his third game in four days at the ball park this evening. The boy is keen and a hard-worker, but the club should go easy with him. "The biggest thing in Canadian Reconstruction," in that it directly deals with the development of an efficient Canadian manhood depleted by the wastage of war, is the national Y.M.C.A. programme for 1919 to be financed by help of public contribution.

The purposes for which the fund of $1,100,000 called for will be expended are as follows:

1. In maintaining Y.M.C.A. services among returning Canadian Soldiers during demobilization and aiding the Y.W.C.A. to carry on similar work among their wives and children.
2. To enlarge Y.M.C.A. work among Canada's "teen-age boys."
3. To carry the Y.M.C.A. into the country towns, villages and counties.
4. To develop social service work among factory operatives in industrial centres and inaugurate Y.M.C.A. work in isolated industrial communities like lumber and mining camps.

RETURNED MAJOR TO LEAD VICTORIA WEST MEN IN ATHLETICS

New Association Formally Launched at Banquet Held at Semple's Hall

Major Stanley Okell, who took a prominent part in sports in Victoria West up to the time he went overseas, was enthusiastically elected to be Superintendent of the Victoria West Brotherhood Athletic Association, which was formally launched at a banquet given by Dr. M. Raynor at Semple's Hall last night. The men interested in sport who were present decided to accept the invitation extended by F. Shakespeare, President, to affiliate with the Victoria West Brotherhood.

MAJOR STAN OKELL, M. C.

On the proposition of the Rev. R. M. Thompson, seconded by H. Stanley, it was decided that Dr. Raynor and Dr. Lewis Hall be made honorary presidents of the Athletic Department of the Brotherhood. Gordon Gerow was chosen to manage the baseball activities, and Ed. Popham was selected to direct the lacrosse. Other branches of sport will be opened up later. Baseball practices will be commenced immediately, and Mr. Gerow is desirous of getting into touch with baseball players of the Victoria West District. The practices will be held on the school grounds. The lacrosse players will probably practice at Macaulay Point.

Had a Proud Name.

Major Okell gave an interesting talk on sport, and declared that Victoria West had held a proud name in the sporting life on the Island in the past, and there was no reason why it should not do so again. As Mr. Shakespeare had previously extended an invitation to affiliate with the Brotherhood, he suggested that they could not do better than accept it and obtain the advantages that were to be obtained by the older men of the district taking an interest in their activities. The part he had previously played in sport, the Major mentioned, had stood him in good stead in his work in France. It had helped him to stand the physical hardships that had to be endured, and it had also helped him in handling men. "Handling a soccer team is first class experience for handling men in France," he told the audience. The war was one great game. "You find who is a good man to have on the team and who is not, and then get rid of those whom you cannot rely upon," he said. Sports, he stated, developed the qualities that made good citizens, and were good training for every walk of life. Organized games should receive every encouragement, and citing soccer football he expressed his opinion that it was the best organized game in the world, teaching a man fairness, self-control and to be alert and active. The Rev. R. M. Thompson spoke on the young man's duty to the community and pointing out what it had cost to keep the community and the country, declared that a young man owed everything to the community, physically, mentally, socially and in religious matters.

Dr. Lewis Hall and the Rev. Robert Campbell, who supported Dr. Raynor as chairman of the banquet, also spoke. Hearty cheers were accorded to Major Okell, and the same compliment was accorded to Dr. Raynor.

The Brotherhood, in extending an invitation to affiliate with the Victoria West Brotherhood, Mr. Shakespeare said the organization was heartily in sympathy with any move made for clean athletics. Any association formed for that purpose would receive all the support the Brotherhood was able to extend to it. A tribute was paid by the Chairman to the support that The Daily Times had given to activities in the Victoria West district.

DESIRE LARGE GRANT FOR ROTHERD SMELTER

Delegation Wait Upon Premier Oliver; Process to Be Investigated

Headed by Mayor Vance, of North Vancouver, and Reeve Fletcher, of Point Grey, a delegation waited upon the Provincial Executive this morning with a request that the Government of British Columbia loan the sum of $300,000 for the purpose of establishing in this Province a Rotherd electric smelter plant.

Premier Oliver and his colleagues went fully into the matter and the delegation was assured that on the return to the Province of the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, an investigation would be made into the Rotherd process. Samples of steel were shown to the members of the Executive and the claim made that the high grade exhibits shown were produced from the raw ore during the space of four hours. The Government was informed that the Rotherd process is at present near Seattle and that favorable consideration of the delegation's request could secure the industry for this Province. It is understood that a free site and certain other minor concessions would also be required by the concern as necessary inducements in addition to the loan.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Portia Society Holds Record Meeting; Next Issue of Camosun Promises Many Pleasing Features.

Portia Society.

The Portia meeting, which was held on April 23 in the Library of the Victoria High School, proved to be the largest of the year. This was not remarkable when it is known that the speaker for the day was Miss Laverne, who lately escaped from Poland.

Beta Delta Society.

There was no meeting of the society this week, but it is rumored that there will be two meetings next week to make up for the deficiency.

Cadet Corps.

The presentation of the Service Flag to the High School by the Women's Canadian Club was a great occasion in the history of the Cadet Corps.

The Cadet Corps had a parade

Thursday afternoon, and will probably be thoroughly drilled in the near future as the annual inspection takes place in about three weeks' time.

Camosun.

The April number of the Camosun made its appearance during the past week, and contained many interesting articles and two clever poems. Probably the most popular of these articles was one called "Michael," the modest writer of which declined to add his imaginative creation. The next number of the Camosun will be the "Matriculation Number," and it gives promise of being the largest and most interesting number to matriculation students out this year.

INTER-CITY SHOOT AT ESQUIMALT SUNDAY

Fourteen Members of Vancouver Gun Club Will Be Here To-night

Fourteen members of the Vancouver Gun Club will leave Vancouver to-night for Victoria where they will take part in a challenge shoot to-morrow with the members of the Esquimalt Gun Club. The Islanders hurled a challenge at the Vancouver men this week and the defn was promptly taken up. It is altogether likely that a return shoot will be held at the Oak street traps of the Vancouver Gun Club at an early date. The Vancouver men who will make the trip to Victoria include the following: J. McIntyre, Fred Carver, Al Field, J. W. Pattison, M. Soper, Al Lersch, Dr. A. R. Baker, Charles Herman, J. Cadham, A. Aben, J. Gail, E. J. Cameron, Charles Lawson and H. Rolston. The team to oppose the Esquimalt scatter gun experts will be selected on the grounds.

The crowd shoot scheduled for to-morrow between the Vancouver and Esquimalt clubs has been postponed on account of the inter-city shoot and also because of the fact that the Esquimalt men will be engaged in a telegraphic league shoot.

AL BONNER SIGNED TO TWIRL FOR VICTORIA

Al Bonner, who pitched a good game of ball in the Northwestern League, a few years ago, has been signed by the Victoria Club. President Hamilton stated last night that he expected to have Bonner here to-day.

Bonner should bolster up the Victoria pitching staff. Bonner formerly twirled for Victoria and afterwards signed with Seattle.

LACROSSE PRACTICE TO BE HELD TO-MORROW

The Foundation lacrosse players will practice to-morrow at Royal Athletic Park. About twenty players have been enlisted to help the club in the race for the Mann Cup, and one or two new men are expected before the series starts. The services of Tommy Nute for the centre position are being sought To-morrow's practice is billed for 9.30.

DRAFT OF PEACE TREATY TO OTTAWA

Ottawa, April 26.—It was learned last night that the Dominion Government expects to receive the detailed draft of the peace terms. If the draft is received here, as anticipated, it will be released for publication at Ottawa at the same time as at Washington. Just when that will be, it is, of course, impossible to say at present.

It is known that the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company has been notified to be in readiness to copy the terms at any time. It was stated last night, however, that a day or two might elapse before the treaty would commence to come over the wires.

WALTHAM THE WORLD'S WATCH OVER TIME

Accuracy with Appearance

ACCURACY is the dominant idea behind the Waltham Watch.

In the factory at Waltham, and in the Montreal branch, the working staff from general manager down to the newest apprentice, is imbued with the spirit of "accuracy first."

This is the motive that led to the invention of many wonderful automatic machines which perform intricate operations in the shaping, drilling, polishing and finishing of watch mechanism, with an accuracy and speed that no human hand could equal.

At the same time, appearance is important, and the Waltham is as pleasing in form as it is perfect in workmanship.

For the man who desires to carry a watch of a quality which adequately meets modern business demands, both as to accuracy and appearance, the Colonial "A" and the Riverside models are great favorites. Ask your jeweler to show you these Waltham models.

ROYAL VICTORIA

A photoplay with a distinct heart appeal and tense dramatic action is "Out of the Shadows," Pauline Frederick's latest Paramount starring vehicle which will be shown at the Royal Victoria for the last time to-night. The story is a picture of a young woman, recently arrived in America, who is unjustly accused of the murder of her husband. The big scene is laid in a court room where the woman is convicted of the crime. The court room setting is said to be most elaborate, even to the mural decorations, and it is regarded by all who have seen it as a masterpiece of stagecraft.

In the role of Ruth Minchin, the hapless bride, Miss Frederick is said to have one of the most intensely emotional parts with which she has yet been provided. A cast of more than ordinary excellence has been chosen to support the star.

COLUMBIA

In a battle of wits, an American inventor beats the monster of Europe in "To Hell With the Kaiser," a strong indictment of the Kaiser and Kaiserism, produced by Screen Classics, Inc., which is the attraction at the Columbia Theatre this week. Professor Munroe has perfected a wonderful wireless invention which the Kaiser wants and he demands that the American turn over the plans. Professor Munroe takes a parcel to the palace and hands it to the Kaiser. A startling denouement follows.

DOMINION

William Faversham in the Silver King is proving a strong attraction at the Dominion this week. The production is filled with many tense scenes in which the star, William Faversham, one of the greatest emotional artists of the stage and screen, thrills his audience.

TO-DAY'S AMUSEMENTS

Princess—R. N. Hincks and Company present comedy-drama, "What Happened to Jones."

Pantages—Vaudeville.

Dominion—William Faversham in "The Silver King."

Royal Victoria—Pauline Frederick in "Out of the Shadows," and Mutt and Jeff comedy.

Variety—Bryant Washburn and Hazel Daly in "Skinner's Bubble," and Houdini in "The Master Mystery."

Columbia—Screen Classics production, "To Hell With the Kaiser," and introductory episode of serial, "The Lure of the Circus."

Romano—Barbara Castleton in "Just Sylvia," and Pearl White in "The Lightning Raider."

He has a personality as rich and fascinating as Hamlet and he knows how to use it to touch the heart. Undoubtedly his success on the screen is as great as upon the stage. The picture, which was made in England, abounds in beautiful photography and many magnificent scenes. The supporting cast might be described as an all-star one, as every one of the characters is portrayed by actors of more than average ability. The story is extremely fascinating and gripping, being one of the most intensely dramatic motion pictures ever screened.

PANTAGES

Tracing the history of the modern dance, from its beginning as the prouetting of Grecian nymphs down through the changes of ages effected by folk-terpsichore and gypsy dancing, until it has revolved right back again to the elemental phases, The Colini Dancers, who will headline the new bill at the Pantages, have one of the daintiest and prettiest offerings of the vaudeville stage. In fact they are the only dancers in variety presenting such a novelty.

In contrast to this will be the pure fun of Charles Seamen, "the narrow fellow," who mixes music with his comedy and creates one of the decided hits of the programme.

Occupying the added attraction position on the bill are the Four Danes, presenting the most spectacular and thrilling gymnastic and acrobatic turn in the modern variety theatre. This quartette of athletes have toured two continents exhibiting their phenomenal strength and ability.

"It Happened in Arizona" is a thrilling sketch based upon the race of a motorcycle rider against fearful and almost impossible odds. The race is presented in full view of the audience and its thrills are many.

Both Chaille is a newcomer to the Pantages Theatre, but a dainty little person who will be remembered by patrons. She is presenting a repertoire of imitations.

"The Bullet Proof Lady" is a novelty shooting act with a feature that is unique. It is the offering of Capt. Lettall and Miss De Almer. Captain Lettall shoots a bullet from a high-powered rifle right through the body of Miss De Almer without hurting her. This is no "fake stunt" and to prove its reality Capt. Lettall invites the close inspection of the feat.

VARIETY

When moving time comes, who does the packing? The wife or the husband? Most women will declare for themselves, but not so with the Skinners. Bryant Washburn in his current sequel to "Skinner's Dress Suit," demonstrates how a man can pack a trunk as well as a woman. While "Honey," his wife in the picture, stand by crying at having to give up her love bungalow, her spouse does a first-class job of packing. "Skinner's Bubble" is the title of this Essanay feature, which will be the Variety attraction for the last time to-day. The role of Honey in "Skinner's Bubble," has an especial appeal to women, both old and young. It has been the author's aim, apparently, to portray, in Honey, a head wife. That he has succeeded is the verdict of Miss Hazel Daly, who enacts the part so delightfully.

ROMANO

Barbara Castleton, the charming young star who has made a big hit in other World Pictures, will be seen on the Romano screen for the last time to-day, in her latest World Picture, "Just Sylvia," in which Johnny Hines appears as her leading man. "Just Sylvia" was written by Harry Hoyt, who has penned many big cinema successes, and it deals with the adventures of a young girl who says that she is "Just Sylvia." She meets and falls in love with Henry Hicks, whose dad has suddenly become wealthy, and when she reveals her real identity not only Henry, but his father and mother and the guests who have been staying with them, all get a decided surprise.

PRINCESS

A continuous roar of laughter emanates from the Princess Theatre each evening between the hours of 8.30 and 10.45. The reason is not far to seek when it is mentioned that the world-renowned farce "What Happened to Jones" is being played there by R. N. Hincks's excellent aggregation of local artists. The manner in which "Jones" extricates himself and implicates others during the course of the many embarrassing situations which arise during the play cause endless amusement, in fact as a laughter producer "What Happened to Jones" is only rivalled by a few other famous farces.

Splendidly acted, none should miss attending one of the few remaining performances.

Lieut.-Col. Hart-McHarg. In an interesting review of the activities of the 7th Battalion in France, The Lancebezan of The Vancouver Daily "Province" refers to the days preceding the memorable gas attack at the second battle of Ypres. "On April 15, 1915," he says, "the Seventh started for Ypres and by midnight of the same night was in the front line in the vicinity of Zonnebeke. The French had been holding these trenches for some time and everything had been quiet, but the first morning after the Canadians had taken over the Germans got busy. The result was that the Seventh, as well as many of the other battalions, suffered a number of casualties during the five days in the front line. It was then taken out and placed in reserve, where it had been only two days when the Germans launched their celebrated gas attack which opened the second battle of Ypres. The history of this well-known fight has been written so often that it is not necessary to repeat it here. It was, however, at this battle that the Canadians made a name for themselves and their country. Not being in

MANY OFFICERS WERE PROMOTED FROM RANKS

The list of officers who returned with the 7th Battalion included several who left in October, 1914, with the original unit from Valcartier. Included with the list were some who have won their commissions for gallant work on the battlefield, including Lieut.-Col. W. F. Gilson. Some of the first contingent officers who returned to-day are as follows: Lieut.-Col. W. F. Gilson (Col.-Sergeant in G. Co.). Major D. Philpot, D. S. O. (Sergeant-Major in Base Co.). Capt. A. H. Loughton (Corporal in G. Co.). Lieut. D. Robbins, M. M. (Corporal in C. Co.). Major A. C. Nation, M. C. Capt. T. D. Theobald. Capt. S. Wharton. Lieut. E. E. Gill, M. C. Lieut. J. H. Blackman, M. C. Lieut. N. Yearwood, M. C. Lieut. D. Wilson. Lieut. L. R. Salmon, M. C. R.-S.-M. R. G. Griffiths (Sergeant in H. Co.). C.-S.-M. W. Moore (Col.-Sergeant in C. Co.).

trenches, the Seventh was taken to support positions in the field which were hard pressed, and instead of fighting as a unit the regiment was scattered in small parties about the field, with the result that the casualties were very heavy. It was during the opening stage of this fight that Lieut.-Col. Hart-McHarg received his wound, of which he died the following day. "For about five days the men of the Seventh fought continuously without any rest, day and night, and the latter two days it was not possible to get rations up to them. When Col. McHarg was killed the command fell to Major Odium, and it was the skill he displayed in handling the regiment after the death of the commander that stamped him as a leader and earned for him the promotion he received afterwards. During the whole five days and nights he was constantly with his men, directing the operations, and at midnight of the fifth day he dropped from sheer exhaustion. It was at first thought that he had been hit and he was rushed to Vlamertinghe in the rear of Ypres. The party which brought him back was headed by Capt. (now Col.) J. M. McMillan, who was then regimental quartermaster. On examination it was found that no wound had been suffered, the trouble being absolute exhaustion. That night the regiment (or what remained of it) was brought back to Vlamertinghe. By 10 o'clock next morning Major Odium was out again, much to the surprise of everyone, and the roll-call was taken. To show how well the 7th Battalion had fought and how it had suffered, it is only necessary to state that less than 300 men answered their names out of a full battalion of over 1,000 which entered the fight.

"Before noon of the same day word came back that more men were urgently needed at the front and by one o'clock in the afternoon Major Odium led his men back into the thick of the fighting again. They filled the breach for a day or more and were then taken a short distance behind the front line to guard a cross road. Here they remained eight days, during which time they were constantly under shell fire from the enemy batteries.

Reinforced by 30th. "After a long night march the battalion reached Baillieu, where it remained for about a week, and during which time it received its first batch of reinforcements. The 250 men of the 30th Battalion, which had been raised in Victoria, when these men had been absorbed, the Seventh was taken to the vicinity of Bethune, and just one month from the opening of the fighting at Ypres they were engaged in the battle of Festubert. The Seventh was actually in the front trenches at this place only one day, but during that time it lost close on to 300 men. Again it demonstrated its

Some Local Officers. Capt. James Matthews, the present adjutant of the 7th, proceeded overseas with the 30th Battalion from Victoria. On arrival at the front he served first with the 2nd Canadian Machine Gun Company and was later transferred to the 7th Battalion. No. 3 Company was under his very able and gallant leadership during the most of the trying year of 1917. He wears the Military Cross with Bar. He was appointed to the position of adjutant in 1917. His administrative work was marked by outstanding competence. Major A. C. Nation, M. C. and Bar, is one of the most popular and conscientious officers in the battalion. Major Nation could generally be found in the hottest corners of the line if any of his boys were there. His work in all actions in which he was engaged was always of a most commendable order. Possibly no officer in the 7th Battalion enjoys the admiration and respect of the men so much as Major Nation.

Lieut. C. Stronach left here in the ranks of the Western Scots, won his M. M. and a commission on the field, and has done splendid work in France. Other local officers included Lieut. W. W. Duncan, T. W. Corran and C. J. Sears.

NO PRIVATE COMPANY TO USE NOMENCLATURE

"Returned Soldiers" Not Allowed as Part Name for Private Corporation

Thomas Meredith, the well-known lumberman, has returned from a several months' visit to England, where he went in the interests of the proposed Returned Soldiers' Co-operative Lumber Company. Briefly stated, this company was to be composed and operated by returned soldiers, an option having been obtained on several sawmills. The entire labor was to be done by veterans, who were also to establish their own stores, maintain their own selling agency and subscribe the capital.

Cannot Register Title. Mr. Meredith found his plans well received by the Canadian soldiers he met in England, and also by men who have already returned. He will not go ahead with the organization of the company at the present time, however, for the reason that the Dominion Government will not consider the registration of the name "Returned Soldiers." The Government takes the view that as a private enterprise and unassisted by the Government, it can not allow the name to be used. Mr. Meredith and the men who desired to associate themselves with the undertaking, maintain that the name "Returned Soldiers" cannot be registered.

Co-operative Lumber Company lay their biggest asset. Such a name, they think, would at once create a sympathetic market, and until they secure the consent of the Government to form under that name they will not go ahead with the extensive plans that had been outlined.

Mr. Meredith, in common with others who wished to join the company, are still satisfied that their plans are feasible, and would go a long way towards helping in the successful re-establishment of a large body of returned men. They will, therefore, let the plan lie in abeyance until all the troops have returned, when they will consider action towards inducing the Government to agree to their wishes.

Agent-General's Work. Mr. Meredith is much impressed with the good work that he says Agent-General Wade is doing for British Columbia in London. He thinks that the British Columbia Government fails to realize the importance to the Province of this work and that the Agent-General's office should be more liberally supported with funds in order that the work which is available in England, should be directed to this Province.

"Few persons realize," he stated, "the enormous immigration there will be to British Columbia from the British Isles, following the declaration of peace. Hundreds of men have already come out to Canada to locate and many of them are now taking up lands in the Peace River district."

A gentleman who was rather impatient at table, declared he wished he could manage without servants, as they were a greater plague than profit.

"Why not a dumb waiter?" suggested a friend.

"Oh, no; I have tried them, but they don't answer."

Don't tell all you know; keep a little for seed.

IN AVIATION CIRCLES

TECHNICAL TERMS USED BY AVIATORS

Information for Public So That They Will Understand Use of Words

"Bus"—This is the term applied to any type of flying machine, irrespective of make, size or performance.

"Bus, good old"—Identical with preceding, only one that has been flown by the speaker and tamed by him. A good old bus never runs amuck.

"Ailerons"—The loose and flappy portion of the wings, balanced, unlike a ledger, when one side is up and the other down.

"Elevator"—That portion of the rear end of the machine that wags up and down as on a hinge.

"Rudder"—Much the same appliance as on a boat. Usually seen with weird cryptic figures on it, something like this—A-B 100067.

"Mechanic"—The funny little bundle of brown running in circles around the bus, usually accompanied by an oily odor and toiled mop.

"Pilot"—That funny little bob sticking up in the centre of the machine, easily recognized as head wags rapidly from side to side and arms wave spasmodically in all directions.

"Fuselage"—That portion of the machine which holds the pilot, engine, and a few other necessities. Usually seen with weird images, circles and peculiar names, painted on its sides.

"Wing"—That portion of the machine which looks like a lineoleum covered ironing board. The machine has four of these things set in pairs of two.

"Wing-tip"—The extreme outer ends of the wings.

"Wing span"—The distance from one wing-tip to the tip of the other wing in line with the fuselage.

"Prop"—That portion of the aeroplane which buzzes round and creates a considerable draft, usually a propeller, two-bladed, metal tipped, serviceable!

"Joy-stick"—The control lever that is responsible for the funny, flapping and wobbling bits sticking out of the wings.

"Under-carriage"—What the aeroplane sits on, composed of two wheels and some bits of rubber and metal, which under the machine but subject to reversal under extraordinary circumstances.

"Crashes"—The resultant mess when two or more aeroplanes run amuck.

"Checks"—The two little bits of railway tie that the mechanics pull away from the machine when it starts.

"Taking-off"—Is that manoeuvre of the aeroplane when the pilot, the pilot's assistants and the mechanics run apparently trying to hold the machine from getting a fair start and so crab the race.

"Landing"—The return of the aeroplane to the ground, usually spoken of in the best circles as a "pukka-landing" or a "ghostly affair."

"Obnoxious"—The unfortunate gentleman who seems woefully unhappy and appears ready to sell his life dearly if interfered with by the maniacs who are chasing around the machine aimlessly and with weird blood-curdling yells. His job consists in dropping messages, propaganda and cheap remarks to the ground and pilot respectively.

"Dud"—Usually attributed to the weather when conditions are unfavorable for flying.

"Revs"—The number of times one half of the prop finds itself in the position formerly occupied by the other half in one minute.

"Winding the prop"—The rotary motion given to the propeller by one or two peripatetic mechanics prior to the start. This does not wind the clockwork, but is found to have a soothing effect on refractory engines, and is done as a conciliatory measure.

"Sausage"—The conical wind vane set on a mast at one end of the aeroplane, designed to convey the direction of the wind to the pilot.

ONLY ONE AVIATRIX IN CANADIAN AERO CLUB

Miss Marion Cassidy, the eighteen-year-old Canadian aviatrix, is now in New York after serving as chauffeur for Brigadier-General Gurney, Head-Quarters in Chief of the Royal Air Force in Canada. Miss Cassidy took a thorough course in aeronautics under Major Herbert Fisher, Chief Instructor of the Royal Air Force, and has flown with Miss Ruth Law and General House. She has had twenty-five hours of solo work at Burden, Ontario, and twenty hours at the Long Beach Aviation School, Central Park, L.I.

Miss Cassidy is an honorary member of the Canadian Aero Club, which has a membership of 3,000, and is the only member of her sex.

Early in May Miss Cassidy will fly to the Atlantic City Aeronautic Convention from New York City.

GIGANTIC TRIPLANE IS PRODUCED BY BRITISH

The trial flight of the most remarkable airplane yet designed in England will be made at Cranborough, Hampshire, within a few days. The machine is a Tarrant super-triplane, which was briefly referred to by Major-General Seely in the House of Commons on March 13 when he foreshadowed a marvelous development of civilian aviation.

The most striking feature of the plane is its long, clear fuselage, similar in appearance to the body of a zeppelin.

The machine was designed originally to bomb Berlin, for which it would carry 10,000 pounds of bombs and a crew of eight over a distance of 1,200 miles. It has a span of 141 feet, the fuselage is 85 feet long, and it is fitted with six Napier Lion engines. It will be capable of carrying more than 100 passengers, or a cargo weighing four tons, for a distance of 1,200 miles, and by extra tankage it would be possible to make with a non-stop flight lasting twenty-four hours, which means roughly speaking, a distance of 2,000 miles under favorable conditions.

The fuselage is built of wood and strengthened by a patent system of girders not unlike the masts of an American warship, and this obviates the use of tracing wires and other fittings common to the ordinary airplane. There is free-way right down the centre of the fuselage permitting anyone to walk to the tail. Three rows of glass windows, giving the appearance of portholes, will be fitted inside of the triplane and tiers of seats will be provided for passengers.

In addition to the staff of pilots there will be on board two or three engineers and mechanics, a navigator and a wireless operator.

C.P.R. TO DEVELOP AERIAL NAVIGATION

Plans to Operate Services Between Many Important Points

Application is being made by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to the Dominion Parliament for an act authorizing it to establish, maintain and operate services by air-craft between such points and places within and without Canada as may be found desirable.

This will mean a great boom for aerial navigation and commercial flying in Canada. The C. P. R. is preparing the way for an immediate inauguration of several services of which it is not prepared to make any statement at the present time.

The company has been watching with great interest the progress made in flying in England and France. The aeroplane has been brought to such a degree of safety that the great statesmen, whose lives are highly valued and greatly protected, are using the aerobus as their means of traveling. The reduction of time is the great factor.

Just as to the types of machines the C. P. R. will use is not known, but when this company embarks on a project it is usually a very extensive one. They will more than likely conduct their experiments in the East over some sections of the country where travel is heavy and the matter of time is all important.

Canadian flying men who have not been in the air since armistice will welcome the enterprise of the C. P. R. as a means of reviewing the achievements of the past and as a means of doing anything to help them develop aerial transportation. Many skillful pilots will find profitable employment in piloting the aerobuses.

GERMAN BOMBING PLANES ARE NOW CARRYING FOOD

German bombing airplanes of the Friedrichshafen type, which were surrendered under a clause of the armistice, will be used by the Department of Civilian Aviation in transporting foodstuffs between Paris and Bordeaux. The aeroplanes will be equipped to carry three tons of parcels and bundles.

At the end of the week the Department plans to have in operation an aerial post between Paris and Valenciennes by way of Maubeuge.

NEW ALTITUDE RECORD SET UP BY FRENCH BIPLANE

The feat of a big French biplane on April 1, reaching an altitude of more than 20,000 feet was accomplished under the handicap of a load comprising the pilot, Lieut. Bousset; four passengers, and ballast representing eight other men.

The record of 20,000 feet, officially determined, is a new one for a flight under such conditions.

Lieut. Bousset said after the flight that he could have reached an altitude of 25,000 feet, but that the steering gear of the airplane began to freeze and he preferred not to take the risk of its jamming.

The machine probably is the Farman-Goliath which recently carried two pilots and fourteen passengers from Paris to London and return on February 8, and the same load from Paris to Brussels and return on February 11.

DIDN'T THINK OF IT BEFORE.

Miss Gushington—I saw your picture at the exhibition, Mr. Brush, and it was just heavenly.

Mr. Brush—Heavenly, eh? Maybe that is why it was "skied."

LT. COL. FOSTER GUEST AT BATTALION DINNER

Re-Union of 2nd C. M. R.'s, at Dominion Hotel Last Night

Reflection of the fine esprit de corps which characterized the Canadian force in general and which was in no case more marked than in the 2nd C. M. R. Battalion, was found in the air of bonhomie prevailing at the dinner at the Dominion Hotel last night, when about forty members of that famous battalion assembled to do honor to Lieut. Col. W. W. Foster, D. S. O., on his return from overseas service.

Acting as chairman was Lieut. Col. G. Chalmers Johnston, D. S. O., O. C. of the unit, and with him at the head table were Lieut. Col. Foster, Major Christie, one of the original officers of the 67th Battalion, Capt. G. G. Aitken, M. C. late of the Canadian Corps Artillery Observation Section, and Beaumont Boggs of the British Camplaigners' Association. Others in the gathering were Major Walter Bapty, Major F. B. Edwards, Major T. Godfrey, Capt. Hogg, Capt. J. Monteith, and Lieut. Warren and other former officers and men of the battalion.

Soldier "Independents." After honoring the toast of "The King," Col. Johnston proposed the toast to Col. Foster, whom he described as "the old original, great pal, and fine officer of the Canadian army, in which there was none better."

The speaker made reference to the trying days of 1915-16, paying tribute to Col. Foster's initiative and originality, to which was due much of the success of the Canadian force in France, his shrewdness and keen foresight enabling them on many occasions to penetrate the Boche territory with telling effect.

Describing the guest of the evening as "the coming civilian of British Columbia" the speaker pointed out that before going "over there" the soldiers were either Liberal, Conservative, or Socialist. Now they have come back as members of none of these political factions but as Independents.

The time was coming when the returned soldier would be the greatest power for good in the country and the world, and a man who understood them to act as their leader. In Col. Foster, the speaker saw a man endowed with the essential qualities of leadership.

Harmful Criticism. A salvo of cheers and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" greeted Col. Foster when he rose to respond to the toast. In retrospective view, the gallant officer reviewed the achievements of the 2nd C. M. R. battalion in the days when the Allies were hampered by adverse conditions and insufficient supplies.

Despite this handicap the men of the Canadian Corps had battled successfully with the enemy, thanks to their magnificent, indomitable spirit. He deprecated the attempt which had been made in some quarters to disparage and criticize the actions of some of the great leaders, a proceeding which he characterized as "unkind, unjust and unwise," and emanating from those who were unaware of the true facts and conditions.

Must Change Conditions. In justice to those comrades who were left behind in the graves in Flanders, continuing Col. Foster, the men who were privileged to return could not fail to realize that their responsibilities to their country did not cease with the laying down of their arms. Those who had come back had acquired broader views and higher ideals by reason of their great sacrifices, and they had come back to find that the old conditions of political strife, intrigue and contention were still in evidence. Asserting that no blame could be attached to those at home for such conditions, the speaker declared that it was the duty of the returned men to make the glorious traditions born in France were maintained, that conditions were changed, and that the same ideals which actuated the armies in the field be brought to play in making Canada a great country. To achieve this he urged the need of proper organization, co-operation and co-ordination between the returned men and those who, left at home, had so magnificently supported the men overseas.

Other Speakers. In proposing the toast to "The Ladies," Major F. B. Edwards spoke in appreciative terms of the splendid work of the women at home and in France. He paid a special tribute to Mrs. A. J. Gibson and her fellow-artists, who had always been to the fore in giving of their talents for those in training to the soldiers.

Major Bapty sponsored the toast to "The Press," and other speakers were Capt. Aitken, who read a clever little satirical poem written in the trenches, Lieut. R. H. Scott who spoke briefly on the Air Service, Capt. Hogg and Major Godfrey.

The gathering decided to perpetuate the memory of the battalion and continue as far as possible the ties formed in France, by the proper organization of a 2nd C. M. R. Association, and to this end Col. Johnston announced that a meeting for organization purposes would be held in the Belmont Building on Wednesday evening next, to which all old members of the battalion were invited.

Musical Programme. A particularly attractive feature of the evening was the delightful musical programme arranged by Mrs. A. J. Gibson, who, in her own inimitable way, officiated as accompanist to the pleasing vocal numbers contributed by Mrs. Harry Pooley, Mrs. Douglas B. McCann and Miss Dorothy Kirk.

THE LATE JOHN READE.

Mr. John Reade, who just died in his 82nd year, was one of the best known journalists, poets and authors in the Dominion. The late Mr. Reade was connected with The Gazette for nearly half a century and his column, "Old and New," which appeared in the Saturday issues, made hosts of friends for the paper. The late Mr. Reade was a native of Ireland and was educated at Queen's College, Belfast. He came to Canada away back in 1856 and established The Montreal Literary Magazine, a publication which possessed real merit but failed because of popular support. Later he studied law, taught for a time and then studied for the Anglican church. He held a pastorate in the Eastern Townships, but in 1870 he returned to Montreal and joined the editorial staff of The Gazette, a post he held until his death. He was the author of a volume of verse entitled "The Prophecy of

PARTING DESCRIBED AS DRAMATIC EVENT

Paris Report Says Orlando Told Wilson People Would Choose

Paris, April 26.—French reports represent the final meeting between President Wilson and Premier Orlando before the latter's departure for Rome as a highly dramatic event. One version is that the Italian Prime Minister, in addressing the American President, said: "You have contested the authority of the Italian Government before its people and it is my duty to go before the representatives of the Italian people and say to them: 'Decide between Mr. Wilson and me.'"

To this President Wilson is reported to have replied: "That certainly is your right."

In American quarters it is said that the foregoing version of the incident probably is a reflex of Premier Orlando's public statement in which he referred to the President appealing directly to the people.

Outlook Was Promising
It is said that the chances of reaching an accord at the final meeting were good if Premier Orlando had remained half an hour longer, but the approach of the time of the departure of his train and his feeling that he should consult the Italian people finally caused him to withdraw while the plan that might have brought about an agreement was still under discussion.

The basis of this presumptive accord is said to have been the partial internationalization of Fiume, like Danzig, with the Jugo-Slavs occupying the Dalmatian mainland and the Italians the outlying islands.

AMERICAN ADMIRAL MAINTAINS ORDER
Head of U. S. Naval Forces in Adriatic Vigilant at Spalato

Paris, April 26.—Orders have been sent to Rear-Admiral Philip Andrews, commanding the American naval forces in the Adriatic, directing him to take exceptional precautions to avoid possible disorders in view of the tension in Italy.

The Dalmatian port of Spalato, which is the headquarters of the American naval forces in the Adriatic, is one of the centres of agitation between the Italians and the Jugo-Slavs. It is explained that the orders to Admiral Andrews were wholly precautionary and that no reports of disorders in that district had been received.

Lombardy Deputies.
Rome, April 26.—The Senators and Deputies from Lombardy sent a joint message yesterday to Premier Orlando and Thomas Nelson Page, the American Ambassador, saying that they identified themselves with Premier Orlando "in defending Italy's prestige while again expressing warm sympathy and friendship toward the American people."

ARMENIANS FROM ARMY OF STATES TO PROTECT COMPATRIOTS

Washington, April 26.—The delays in the Peace Conference were declared to be giving the Turks an opportunity to complete the extermination of the Armenian race, in a memorandum cabled to President Wilson by the State Department. The memorandum was prepared at the request of Assistant Secretary of State Phillips by Mirian Sevasly, chairman of the Armenian National Union of America. The memorandum asks that Armenians serving in the American army be organized as a military unit and dispatched on American transports to Armenia to protect the population against the Turks.

BRITISH NAVY IS HONORED BY FRANCE

Beatty and Other Visiting Officers Guests at Event in Paris

Paris, April 26.—(Reuters)—In a demonstration here in honor of the British navy at which Stephen Pichon, the French Foreign Minister, presided, and Georges Leygues, the Minister of Marine, was present, Admiral Sir David Beatty and the other chiefs of the two British squadrons now visiting France were the guests of honor. Distinguished politicians and diplomats were also present.

M. Pichon paid eulogistic tribute to the friendship of the late King Edward and said the present celebrations of victory were the direct outcome of the late King's labors in cementing the Anglo-French alliance.

France was not only honoring the incomparable British navy, but was also honoring Britain's army, her Government, the Dominions of the British Empire and the colonies. M. Pichon said France was determined to maintain the present Anglo-French collaboration for all time, because without it peace would remain at the mercy of the fickleness of fortune so often experienced.

A Sure Foundation.
M. Leygues said the successes of the armies in France and Belgium and also in the East and Africa would have been impossible but for the protection of the British fleet which prevented the destruction of ports and the devastation of dominions and colonies. Moreover, the war would have lasted much longer without the naval blockade.

He outlined the achievement of all branches of the navy, none of which had ever failed to rise to an emergency. Of that of the fleet, he said, the crimes of the enemy submarines must not go unpunished.

Admiral Louchard eulogistically reviewed the achievements of the British sailors in every sea, and concluded: "We have disputed with you the empire of the sea; we shall no longer be your rivals except in works of peace. Thousands upon thousands of your sons sleep their last sleep under the soil of France. All honor and reverent remembrance to those glorious dead."

THROUGH IN TURIN GREETED ORLANDO
People Cheered Stand Taken by Italian Premier at Paris

Turin, April 25.—Via London, April 25.—When Premier Orlando reached this city to-day on his way from Paris to Rome he was greeted by an immense throng. Standing in an automobile, the Premier spoke briefly to the crowds.

"For the past six weeks," he said, "I have been defending Italy's rights, but at last I was conscious that my responsibility had to end with a 'no' (great cheering). Doubt has been expressed whether this monosyllable truly corresponds to the thoughts behind it and whether it has an echo in our hearts. How should I have answered?"

Great Shout.
Thereupon there went up a great shout of "No." The whole crowd repeated the word "no" again and again and waved flags, hats and handkerchiefs. The demonstration lasted ten minutes. Similar enthusiasm followed speeches by Signor Bissolati and General Diaz.

At the Prefecture, to which the Premier and his colleagues were escorted, Signor Orlando again addressed a great crowd, speaking from a balcony. There was renewed cheering, and when his train left for Rome at 5.45 o'clock there was a great demonstration by the people.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

There is no medicine for little ones so equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative; pleasant to take; do not gripe or cause constipation, indigestion, colic or any of the other minor ailments. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Monzerolle, Ed. River Ridge, N. B., writes: "I believe Baby's Own Tablets are the finest medicine for little ones I have ever used. From my own experience I would recommend every mother to keep a box on hand." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

VENICE AND TRIESTE ENOUGH FOR ITALY

So Says United States Secretary
Lane in Statement Issued To-day

Washington, April 26.—Secretary Lane to-day issued a brief statement explaining, as he said, "one or two matters connected with the Fiume situation that should not be overlooked."

"Fiume was not to be given to Italy by the secret treaty made on Italy's entry into the war, called the London Treaty. Under this treaty Fiume was to go to Croatia, which is now a part of Jugo-Slavia. And this is where President Wilson wishes to go now."

Good Judgment.
"The question of giving Fiume to Italy thus becomes a question of good judgment, and President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George and Clemenceau unitedly concluded that to give Fiume to Italy would be unjust to the new republic east of the Adriatic, as Fiume is the only port on the eastern side of the Adriatic which can be asseverable as a sea entrance to Jugo-Slavia and adjoining countries."

"The Italian claim is based on Italian desire, not on any right other than the claim that as its people are Italians they should become a part of Italy as they were a hundred years ago. But to gratify that desire would be manifestly wrong to others and maintain a sore spot on the Adriatic which would cause constant irritation. Italy, with Venice and Trieste, can live happily and independently without Fiume, while the Jugo-Slavs would have a free life without access directly to the world by water."

BRANDON SUFFERS ANOTHER STRIKE

Civic Employees' Union and Other Workmen Have Ceased Labors

Brandon, April 26.—The third strike of the Civic Employees' Union here and those who have gone out in sympathy with them finds business all but paralyzed in this city. Following the beginning of the teamsters' strike yesterday at noon, groups of men are stopping work on all deliveries and milk wagons and inducing the drivers to quit. As a result of the many false alarms the fire alarm boxes are being disconnected.

Yesterday afternoon the Council of the Board of Trade offered to negotiate between the City Council and the union. No action was taken on this offer by the Council in view of its request for a conciliation board. The men already have asked for such a board.

At the conclusion of a Council meeting the Mayor and some of the Aldermen went to the waterworks pumping station, where they shovelled coal to maintain the operation of the pumps and water supply.

ALLIED NATIONALS IN ROME ASKED TO JOIN DEMONSTRATION

London, April 26.—Dispatches from Rome say the newspapers of that city report that the following circular was distributed in large numbers Friday in all parts of Rome frequented by officers and men of the Allied armies:

"The Italian people, while reaffirming friendship for the peoples of Great Britain, France and the United States, invites the citizens of the Allied nations now staying in Rome to participate in a demonstration to be made on the arrival here of the Italian Premier and peace delegation from Paris."

A SESSION BEFORE ELECTION IN ONTARIO

Toronto, April 26.—The Toronto World says a new agreement has been arrived at between Premier Hearst and Mr. Padfoot, the Liberal leader, for a further extension of the present Legislature of Ontario, to allow one more session.

"Political capital has materialized out of the Ontario Temperance Act disclosures, and the Government is afraid of its growth," says The World.

CHINESE WANT ALLIES TO BUILD RAILWAYS

Peking, April 25.—(Associated Press)—The Ministry of Communications informed the Allied Legations to-day that the privileges of the Germans in connection with the Hu Kuang Railway zone agreement were cancelled on the declaration of war by China. It was declared that payment on the principal and in interest of the German bonds had ceased, and the investment would be reckoned as security for the indemnity due China for her losses during the war.

Hope was expressed that Great Britain, France and the United States would co-operate in building the Hu Kuang line.

RAILROAD STOCKS MOVE UPWARD

Big Public Interest in Stocks Put Quotations Up at the Session To-day

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)
New York, April 26.—The enormous public interest in the stock market is overshadowing every other feature at the present time. The buying which has been developing in the railroad stocks assumed larger proportions today, the old line dividend payers came into line with the low priced rails that have been in favor. The steel stocks made a recovery from the setback of yesterday, and outside of the Mexican Oil stocks, which were weak, the market generally was helped by advices from Washington that the Paris situation is rapidly clearing.

PICKLING WORKS IS EXPANDING RAPIDLY

Local Establishment Moves to New Quarters; Helps Increased Production

The Western Pickling Works, of which L. D. Rines is the managing director, will be in their new quarters, 910 View Street, by May 1. The firm is at present engaged in moving its stock and equipment from the present location, 851 Flagg Street.

The Haggerty Building is the name of the premises where the pickling works will be housed and the fact that there are three stories and a basement means that the concern will have much more room. In fact it was owing to the development of the business to a point far beyond the capacity of the present location that induced Mr. Rines to look about for another place.

The Western Pickling Works is one of Victoria's business assets, and it is doing a great deal toward encouraging the local producers to grow more extensively. Although the works were established only two years ago, it has gone a long way toward providing canning and preserving facilities for a great deal of fruit and vegetables for which there was otherwise no market. Every foot of the additional space provided by the new premises on View Street will be utilized, says Mr. Rines, and it is the intention to extend the business to include jam making. All kinds of vegetables are pickled, and all supplies are purchased in the local market. The concern manufactures the well-known Lang's Camosun Marmalade, catsups, salad oil, salad dressing, vinegar and honey.

The fact that such a plant exists in Victoria encourages local producers to extend their operations, having the assurance that whatever they produce will be absorbed. This year the Pickling Works intends to extend its scope to include the canning of pears, apples and plums, which will serve to provide a market for the owners of orchards on Vancouver Island who hitherto have allowed their fruit to fall to the ground and rot simply because no provision was made for taking care of it.

NORTH SOOKE CHILDREN

Great Interest Shown in Entertainment by Pupils.

The Sooke Harbor School House, North Sooke, was packed to overflowing on Wednesday, St. George's Day, when at 8 p.m. the first concert given by the children attending this school took place, the chair being taken by W. Miller Higgs.

The programme commenced with "Oh Canada," the audience joining in the chorus. This was followed by a recitation, "Ring, Happy Bells," given by Nora Sawyer. Then the "Highland Fling," gracefully danced by Anna MacKenzie in tartan shawl, was loudly applauded, as was also a recitation by Wilfred Sawyer, entitled "Ned's Easter Visit." A story, "The Story of the Four-Leafed Clover," told in song by the Primer boys was much appreciated. The girls of the school gracefully gave "A Country Dance." Then followed a recitation by Frances Neil, who pleasingly related the story of the "Four-Leafed Clover." Another recitation much enjoyed was given by Peggy Seward, entitled "Little Boy Blue." "The Swing Song," rendered by the girls, terminated the first half of the evening's entertainment. After an interval of ten minutes, during which the gramophone, kindly lent by Mr. and Mrs. Neil, was played, the programme was reopened with a recitation entitled "Seven Little Chicks," given by Phyllis Neil, who but a dot five years of age, told her story very prettily. This was followed by an excellent and very amusing dialogue between Nora Sawyer and Donald MacKenzie, entitled "A Visit to the Samsons." In this they were assisted by Peggy and Tom Seward. Then followed a recitation by Phyllis Neil, who but a dot five years of age, told her story very prettily. This was followed by an excellent and very amusing dialogue between Nora Sawyer and Donald MacKenzie, entitled "A Visit to the Samsons." In this they were assisted by Peggy and Tom Seward. For You and Your Friends

"I beg you to publish my letter." It is only natural that people write us enthusiastic letters about Gin Pills. Wouldn't you do the same, if, after suffering from backache for years, you found relief? Wouldn't you wish your friends and others to know what Gin Pills had done for you, and what they will do for them? Of course, you would, and that is the only reason that prompts people to write us praising this great remedy.

Read what Laidore Thomas says in part: "My case was very serious, and I was so sick everybody expected my death any day. No suffering could be worse than what I had to endure. Eight boxes of Gin Pills were sufficient to cure me entirely. I beg you to publish my letter and tell all sufferers of Kidney Trouble not to despair, for you will find Gin Pills will cure them. I have to be very thankful to you, and I recommend Gin Pills to all my friends suffering from kidney trouble."

Take the advice of those who have tried most remedies and found that Gin Pills cure.

Gin Pills are not a cure-all—but a scientific remedy for Kidney or Bladder Troubles. They contain the beneficial ingredient of gin, without the alcohol, and gin has been recognized for years as the most perfect agent for toning up the kidneys and restoring these organs to perform their natural functions.

LABOR OBJECTS TO PRESS PUBLICITY

Few Leaders Make Excuse That Reports Are Garbled; to Ignore Commission

When The Times representative attended the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night to take a report of the proceedings relating to the appointment of delegates from that body to attend the sittings here to-day and Monday of the Royal Commission on Industrial Relations, attention was called to the fact that a member of the press was present and after some discussion he left the room. J. Taylor had just finished a speech on the personnel of the Commission. Of two of the Commissioners "supposed" to be labor men he had a very poor opinion. Various speakers took the stand that it would be useless to attend before the Commission to give evidence on relations between employer and employee because it was a foregone conclusion that the employer would be favored, and attendance would only be so much waste of time. One speaker thought that if evidence submitted respecting the cost of food would be accepted, the attendance of witnesses from the Trades and Labor Council might accomplish some good.

It was at this stage that attention was called to the press representative in the room and President E. E. Woodward was reminded that there was a resolution on file reciting that as the meetings of the Council were never correctly reported, no press representatives should be allowed. Some were in favor of the reporter remaining, and a resolution was offered to that effect, while other speakers objected to the deliberations of the Council being open.

"It's a funny thing how these reporters get to know when there is anything important on. They come running around here when there is anything important to be discussed, but they don't come when our regular meetings are important enough to attend," said one speaker.

Another man objected to his name going in the paper when his remarks at the meetings were quoted. It was stated that employees had received their pay cheques the next day as a result of such publicity. Mr. Taylor said that some of the reporters were "pretty good scouts" but they were not allowed to report the meetings correctly. They had one editor over them and there was another editor over the latter with the proprietor above that. The papers had a "policy" and the reporters could not be blamed. The local newspapers, therefore, were in for a lengthy criticism at the hands of one or two of the speakers.

The Council later decided not to send authorized representatives to give evidence before the Commission. B. S. Woodward, President, and one other member of the Council opposed this attitude when it came to the vote, but they rest were in favor of ignoring the Commission. The Council went on record as follows, however:

"Realizing that the aims and objects of a labor movement should be the improving of the social and economic condition of society in general and the working class in particular; and whereas the present system of production for profit and the institutions resulting therefrom prevent this from being achieved;

"Be it resolved, that the aims of labor as represented by this Council are the abolition of the present system of production for profit, and the substituting therefore, production for use."

It is understood that there will be no objection to any individual union member attending to give evidence before the Commission. At least this was the attitude taken in the matter at the meeting of the Metal Trades Council, which also met last night.

Two brothers were being entertained by a rich friend. As ill-luck would have it, the talk drifted away from ordinary topics. "Do you like Omar Khayyam?" thoughtlessly asked the host, trying to make conversation. The elder brother plunged heroically into the breach. "Pretty well," he said, "but I prefer Chianti."

SHIPYARD ROAD IS IN SPLENDID SHAPE

By courtesy of City Engineer F. M. Preston, a Times representative was taken for an automobile spin over the newest road constructed in or about Victoria, namely, the road to the Chulberg Shipyard. Those who have not visited the location since the new road was completed will be pleasantly surprised at the great improvement that has been made. The road now has a very gradual grade and is well surfaced and drained and stands the heaviest traffic in fine style. As it skirts all the industrial locations on the old Songhees Indian Reserve the road is of great value and has demonstrated that the investment was well worth while. The work was carried out under the direction of Mr. Preston.

FENCING.

He—Miss Willing, I'm going to propose to you—
She—Really, Mr. Phox, this is so sudden.
He—That we have some ice cream.
She—Oh, I shall be delighted.
He—Some evening when the weather gets warmer.
Despite the fact that just one year ago this greatest epidemic of illicit drug selling ever dealt with in Toronto was thought to have been stamped out, it is stated, through police officials, that there are four hundred victims of the drug habit in the city.
